SAY NAZIS PLAN TO USE POISON GAS

LONDON (CP)—The War Office said tonight Nazi repetition of the "flimsy and mendacious lie" that Great Britain supplied poison gas to Poland "clearly indicates an intention on the part of Germany to use poison gas on the western front."

The statement added that use of poison gas would be "in contravention to the 1925 Geneva protocol," to which Germany and the Allied belligerents are signatories.

"The sequence of events in the last war will be recollected," the statement continued. "It is an established fact that a decision to use this barbarous form of warfare was taken by the German high command as early as the late autumn of 1914."

"Technical preparations had been completed by them to use gas on the Ypres front. While waiting for a suitable wind, the German propaganda machine endeavored to prepare the way for their intended outrage by lying accusations against their opponents."

MORE WOMEN OUT TO REGISTER

Response to the drive for voluntary registration of Canadian women for national service was "very much better" today—fifth day of the campaign.

With the opening of the registration booths in David Spencer Ltd. and the Hudson's Bay Company here a number who because of wet weather had not visited their district centres, registered today. Women at the Parliament Buildings and the nurses at the Royal Jubilee Hospital were also showing interest today.

"Results are very gratifying today," said Alice Morrow, Vancouver chairman. She said her staff was being kept busy by women telephoning to find out where they could register.

Up until yesterday only about 5 per cent of the 82,355 women between the ages of 16 and 65 years had appeared at registration booths.

Nazis Conceal Losses in Poland

LONDON (CP)—The Foreign Office announced today that a "reliable neutral source" had informed it "there was every reason to believe German losses in men and material during the campaign in Poland were much heavier than appeared from official German sources."

"It is said that tanks and mechanized vehicles in particular suffered severely, and of those which survived a large number are in need of repair and will not be fit for service again for some months."

(Adolf Hitler stated in his Reichstag speech of October 6, that German casualties in Poland were 10,527 killed, 30,322 wounded and 3,404 missing.)

Must Defend Canada Says U.S. Senator

WASHINGTON (AP)—An argument that repeal of the arms embargo would lead the United States into war was answered in the Senate this afternoon with the assertion that this country must defend Canada under terms of the Monroe Doctrine.

Senator Barbour, Republican New Jersey, said the United States can not help its northern neighbor under the existing neutrality law and contended an attack on Canada not only would violate the Monroe Doctrine, but would "force us into war."

Father Charged With Baby's Murder

SEATTLE (AP)—Prosecutor B. Gray Warner today charged John Frederick Wunders, 21, mechanic, with first degree murder of his 16-month-old daughter, Belle Frances, asphyxiated Tuesday night by gas from four open stove jets while the parents saw a motion picture entitled "Unexpected Father."

Detective Chief Ernest Yoris said Wunders signed a confession he had opened the gas jets without his wife's knowledge.

Japanese Fliers Return

TOKIO (CP-Havas)—The round-the-world good will flight of the Japanese airplane Nippon ended today when the ship landed at the Tokyo airport. The flight covered just over 33,000 miles in 195 hours flying time at an average speed of 118 miles an hour.

HITLER MAY OFFER PEACE TO FRANCE

COPENHAGEN (CP-Havas)—Berlin correspondents of the National Tidende and the Berlingske Tidende reported today that Adolf Hitler soon will offer a separate peace to France and will precede his offer by suspending hostilities on the Western Front.

The war against Britain will continue, meanwhile, with "increased ferocity," these reports said.

The Berlin correspondent of the Politiken reported that Hitler is planning to create an independent Poland with an area about equal to that of Bulgaria. Warsaw would be the capital. A Jewish state will be formed, he said, in the east, with Lublin as its capital. Some 3,900,000 Jews would be settled there. The rest of Silesia including Katowice and the province of Krakow would be incorporated into the Reich.

Turk Move Worries

BERLIN (AP)—Hitler heard a report on the French-British-Turkish pact tonight from the lips of Franz von Papen, while leading Nazis insisted Turkey no longer could be considered neutral.

Nazi officials professed to see a loophole in Turkey's reservation against being drawn into a war with Russia, but asserted the Turks had "chosen a dangerous route."

Hitler's Girl Admirer Sick in Munich

LONDON (CP)—Unity Freeman-Mitford, 25-year-old daughter of Lord and Lady Redesdale and a supporter of Nazism, was said by her family today to be recovering from an illness in a Munich hospital. "I do not know what her illness is," said Lady Redesdale, mother of the young woman whose blonde beauty and blue eyes have been praised by Hitler.

Miss Freeman-Mitford is a cousin of the Earl of Arlre, Lord Chamberlain to the Queen, who accompanied their Majesties to Canada this year.

Rupert to Have City Manager

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C. (CP)—Returning prosperity in this coastal city will allow retirement of the city commissioner at the end of this year, when a city manager may be named to take over civic affairs.

Taxpayers yesterday voted in favor of the city managership form of civic administration. The vote was 104 for and 42 against.

Critchley May Train Pilots in Canada

LONDON (CP)—The name of Air Commodore A. C. Critchley is being widely discussed in aviation circles in connection with the plan to train Royal Air Force and Dominion pilots in Canada.

Britain Searching Neutral Mail

LONDON (CP)—The Ministry of Economic Warfare said today that mails of neutral nations passing through British contraband control bases were searched for contraband and then "forwarded to their destinations."

Jailed Relief Men On Hunger Strike

VANCOUVER (CP)—Police today said five unemployed men, arrested with 13 others Tuesday when they staged a short "sit-down" strike in the provincial relief offices here, have been on a hunger strike since Wednesday.

Assurances Given Italy By Allies

PARIS (CP-Havas)—The Italian government has received assurances that the Anglo-French-Turkish mutual assistance pact is not directed in any manner against Italy, it was learned here today.

The threat of Soviet penetration into the Balkans caused concern in Rome and the Italian government moved to bring about a regrouping of states in Balkan and Danubian Europe. Its activity, although discreet, has already shown some results.

French Take Prisoners

PARIS (AP)—The French high command issued the following communique at 8:30 tonight: Patrol and reconnaissance activity between the Moselle and the Saar. We made a few prisoners. Local artillery activity in the same region. All quiet generally on the front east of the Saar.

To Make Empire 'Big Arsenal'; Nazis Stunned By Turk Pact

First Pictures of Nazi Air-raiders Downed By British Off Scottish Coast

DESTROYER TO THE RESCUE—A British destroyer, foreground, steams to the rescue of the crew of one of the German bombers shot down in the Firth of Forth, northern Scotland, during a Nazi raid. This radiophoto is one of the first pictures showing actual scenes from the war as it came to British shores. (Radiophoto.)

WAITING FOR ENEMY'S AID—Riding the waves while its Nazi crew of three stand on a pontoon awaiting rescue, one of the four German-bomber planes shot down by British guns during a raid on Scotland's Firth of Forth, is pictured in this first radiophoto of the air and sea action in northern Scotland. (Radiophoto.)

Must Harness All Our Resources To Win War

By J. F. SANDERSON

LONDON (CP)—Ministers from the different dominions are on their way to discuss with the British authorities plans to turn the whole Empire into a vast arsenal and training ground for hundreds of thousands of men.

"If we ever expect to win this war there can be no doubt that the resources of the whole Empire must be developed to the limit between the three fighting services," a reliable military source said.

Although fighting on the Western Front continues on an "experimental basis, limited to reconnaissance and minor attacks, nothing can eliminate the possibility Germany will make full use of her mighty army before "throwing in the sponge."

"As long as Germany has 100 divisions of trained men," this military source continued, "the only way to prepare against their eventual use is to harness the whole resources of the British Empire. It would be suicidal to shut our eyes simply because nothing is happening now on the Western Front."

This military source in a survey of the past week's operations referred to the lack of large-scale operations on the Western Front and expressed the opinion Germany has only six more weeks before winter weather would prevent mass attacks over a wide area with mechanized troops.

Even if there should be a stalemate on the Western Front this winter it would not be a bad thing for Britain and France. It would give them, particularly Britain, time to develop their full military power.

Mackenzie King To Make Broadcast

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King will broadcast over a nation-wide network soon, probably some night next week, it was learned officially today. The Prime Minister will tell the people of Canada about this country's war effort.

This will be the first of a series of radio addresses he will deliver to keep the public informed on what steps Canada is taking to assist the Allies.

"Girls" in coverings and scan the night sky anxiously.

In hundreds of scattered air-dromes mechanics work on reconnaissance planes and fighters.

Scanning the soggy terrain ahead of the front line, you find it hard to believe any tank could advance over such ground, or any infantry march.

But Germany used two motorized divisions in Poland and, as one officer said, "the German military mind is pragmatic—if a thing works once they will try it again."

Germans Admit Britain Clinches Dardanelles Control

BERLIN (AP)—The German political world appeared to be stunned today by the 15-year assistance pact signed yesterday between the Allies and Turkey.

Nazi circles professed to believe the pact might lead to repercussions in the Balkan countries, but how far the neutrality of Balkan nations might be affected was not clear.

One German view on the pact was the clause exempting Turkey from the obligation of fighting Russia—a "joker" which will make Turkish help to the Allies ineffective.

No Berlin morning newspaper mentioned signing of the pact.

The opinion was expressed that the Balkans would see in Turkey's action a renunciation of desire to safeguard neutrality.

The new situation in the Mediterranean was viewed with gravest apprehension in informed circles, inasmuch as Italian and Soviet Russian interests were regarded as directly involved.

These quarters said they looked to Italy to react, as a Mediterranean power, and expressed the opinion that the treaty was sufficient cause to bring about Russo-Italian co-operation similar to that between Russia and Germany.

CANADIANS WIN $225,780 IN SWEEP

DUBLIN (CP)—A total of approximately $225,780 went to Canada today from the first day's draw in the Irish Hospitals Sweepstake.

Fifty-three Canadians won prizes worth £947 ($4,260) each in the major draw against the 95 horses originally entered in the Cesarewitch.

With the cancellation of the Cesarewitch, there were no first prizes today, the blocks being divided equally among holders of tickets on horses.

The names of most Canadian winners were withheld to avoid conflict with the Dominion lottery law. The noms de plume of the winners, each of whom received about $4,260, are published on page 3.

PRAIRIE WINNER

YORKTON, Sask. (CP)—Art Gellert, compositor in the Enterprise Publishing Company here, received word from Dublin today that he had won a prize of $4,700 for drawing a horse in the Cesarewitch. He owned the ticket outright.

Italy's Neutrality Unbroken By Pact

ROME (AP)—Diplomatic circles today expressed doubt that the mutual aid pact among Great Britain, France and Turkey would cause any change in Italian diplomacy.

These sources saw no reason why the development would throw Russians and Italians into each other's arms on terms similar to those between Russia and Germany—a development predicted by Nazis in Berlin in commenting for foreign correspondents on the treaty.

Italian government circles withheld any comment pending close study of the pact.

Neutral diplomats expressed the opinion Italy would prefer to see any Russian expansion in the Balkans checked since Premier Mussolini considers the Balkans within his sphere of influence.

In any event, they doubted that any move would be forthcoming from Italy, since she apparently was eager to keep the war out of the Mediterranean and had proclaimed a policy of no initiatives.

No Pressure

CHUNGKING, China (AP)—Chinese government spokesmen today denied Japanese reports that a Soviet military mission had made demands on the Chinese in return for continued aid in the Japanese-Chinese war.

Sidney Protests Sunday Shooting

Residents of North Saanich district are protesting failure of the government this year to close the area to shooting on Sundays.

For the first time in five years the game authorities have failed to provide the special closure in the district during the week-end.

The area is becoming more thickly populated and several homeowners protested the presence of hunters last Sunday, first of the current season.

No explanation is offered from the Legislative Buildings regarding the opening of hunting in North Saanich on Sundays. It was admitted, however, the restriction imposed in recent years has been lifted.

No Japanese Reply to Grew

TOKIO (AP)—Japan regards as an unofficial utterance Ambassador Joseph C. Grew's declaration of United States resentment at Japanese army "interference" with American rights in China, it was reported today.

Hence, it was indicated, an official reply was doubtful.

The first German attack in 1913 saw 35 divisions advance against the British lines. Then, British, French and Belgian armies went out against them. This time, entrenched in fortifications which are hard to see and harder to take, the same forces will receive them.

There is nothing glamorous about the front on nights like recent ones.

Tells How Bremen Outwitted British In Ocean Chase

NEW YORK—The New York Times in a special cable from its correspondent in Berlin gives reported details of how the captain of the Bremen outwitted the British warships that were detailed to seize her, and how he was able to get his $20,000,000 liner safely to a neutral port in North Russia.

According to this report the Bremen was taken into convoy by British warships shortly after passing American territorial limits. The ship itself was completely darkened and the crew was even forbidden to smoke on deck. The British warships remained out of sight of the German vessel, but were in radio communication with her.

The ship itself meanwhile was painted a dull grey on the high seas, which, although a difficult job, had the effect of satisfactorily camouflaging the vessel.

Commodore Ahrens, who commands the flagship of the German Merchant marine, is said to have called for volunteers to man a small motor-driven lifeboat which was equipped with radio transmission apparatus.

A crew for the lifeboat was quickly made up and put overboard. This is all said to have happened the day before the announcement of the existence of a state of war between England and Germany—August 31. The Bremen itself proceeded on its course leaving the small boat, which kept in radio communication with the British warships.

When war broke out and the British warships closed in in order to take their prize they found a small radio outfit lifeboat, while the Bremen was a good 24 hours distant and safely en route to the Russian port of Murmansk.

Pact Blocks Germany In Balkans, Say British

LONDON (CP)—Great Britain counted Germany twice a loser today—balked both by the signing of the Anglo-French mutual assistance pact with Turkey and by bad weather on the western front.

Responsible British sources argued the treaty signed at Ankara last night had blocked penetration of German influence in the Balkans, particularly Rumania.

"In a nutshell, if Germany attacks Rumania or Greece, Turkey will be in our side," the London News Chronicle said.

Military observers declared that continuing heavy rains on the western front, meanwhile, greatly lessened the chances of success for any attempted German offensive against the Allied armies.

In diplomatic circles, far-reaching implications were read into the Anglo-Franco-Turkish treaty for mutual military aid against "aggression" in the Mediterranean.

By the pact, operative for 15 years, Great Britain and France must help Turkey if she is the victim of aggression by "a European power" or if aggression by a European power leads "to war in the Mediterranean area in which Turkey is involved."

In return, Turkey must help the western Allies if "an act of aggression by a European power" leads to war in the Mediterranean area or if the United Kingdom and France are engaged in hostilities in virtue of their guarantees to Greece and Rumania of April 13, 1939.

SOVIET NOT EUROPEAN

Turkey, however, is not compelled to take any action that would involve her in war with Soviet Russia, and the Allied powers are not obliged to fight Russia in the event of Soviet aggression against Turkey.

In diplomatic language, the U.S.S.R. is not a European power. All three parties in the treaty were said in diplomatic circles here to have agreed to the principle that the treaty should in no way be directed against Russia.

Diplomatic observers assumed, however, that there was no likelihood of a Soviet act of aggression against Turkey. It was pointed out that a Turkish-

Russian nonaggression pact has existed since 1925.

(There was no official reaction in Moscow, but foreign circles there saw the tripartite treaty as Russia's first defeat in her diplomatic "victories" over neighboring states. It was regarded also as a curb on any possible Russian plan to give military aid to Germany and on Russian aims in the Balkans).

Members of Parliament, who loudly cheered Prime Minister Chamberlain's announcement that the pact had been signed, acclaimed it as a victory for British diplomacy after what, in Mr. Chamberlain's words, was the "bombshell" thrown into the Allied camp by the Russo-German nonaggression pact last August 24.

GUARDIAN OF STRAITS

Among the strategic and practical advantages expected by diplomatic circles were:

1. Increased protection for British interests in Egypt and Palestine.
2. The maintenance of Turkey's role as guardian of the Dardanelles, strategic gateway to the Black Sea.
3. A pacifying effect on the Balkan situation.
4. Strengthening of Finland and other northern countries in negotiations with Russia because of Turkey's success in "standing up" to the Soviet.

The press emphasized that there was nothing in the agreement to prevent Turkey from resuming negotiations for an agreement on parallel lines with Russia.

The Times of London attributed the suspension of the Turkish-Russian talks to "clumsy intervention" by German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop. "Von Ribbentrop's diplomacy has become as erratic as it has always been mischievous and his latest effort has only resulted in what is regarded even in Italian political circles as 'a diplomatic victory for the Allies,'" the Times said.

The London Daily Mail said the treaty with Turkey and the declaration of neutrality by the Scandinavian states on the same day may make October 19 one of the most historically memorable dates of the war.

former presidents of the United States.

"I respect Colonel Lindbergh highly as an aviator," Mr. Attebery declared. "But I believe he is a novice so far as statesmanship is concerned."

In his talk to the R.O.A., Mr. Attebery was discussing neutrality legislation and President Roosevelt was proper, "despite the advice to the contrary of Herr von Lindbergh."

The next day, Capt. Thomas C. Kinney, Seattle attorney and secretary, received Captain Walter's resignation from the R.O.A. The resignation subsequently was accepted by the R.O.A.'s Seattle chapter council.

'Hush' Manager Faces Libel Charge

SUDBURY, Ont. (CP)—Arrested in Toronto on a warrant taken out after an information had been sworn to by W. E. Mason, publisher of the Sudbury Star, Richard Sair, manager of the Toronto tabloid Hush, will appear in police court in Sudbury tomorrow morning to face a charge of defamatory libel. He is expected to leave Toronto tonight aboard a train with a police escort.

The charge on which Sair was arrested is based on an article which appeared in the October 21 edition of the Toronto publication. The article purported to be an expose of activities of a Nazi bund organization which the paper claimed was operating in Sudbury.

The name of Mr. Mason was used in connection with certain allegations in the article.

LONDON (CP)—A communique on today's air raids issued by the air ministry and the ministry of home security follows:

"A number of aircraft believed to have been German attempted to make reconnaissances in the Firth of Forth area during the morning and early afternoon. Royal Air Force fighters took off to intercept them, but they disappeared before contact."

"An air raid warning was sounded over Edinburgh shortly after 11 a.m., and extended to Dundee. All clear signals were given about midday, but a second air raid warning was given in Edinburgh some minutes later on the appearance of other unidentified aircraft in the Firth of Forth area."

"No raid developed and the all-clear signal was given shortly after 1.30 p.m."

Can Shrinkage in Estates be avoided?

An estate is reduced in value every time it changes ownership because succession duties have to be paid on each occasion.

If $75,000 is left to a wife, succession duties will be imposed. If, at her death, the children receive her estate, succession duties will have to be paid again.

On the other hand—if the wife receives the income for life and the principal is held in trust for the children, there will be only one change of ownership—and succession duties will be collected once instead of twice. The saving in duty, under this arrangement, is more than $2,000.

The Trust Plan we recommend, will be explained upon request, without obligation.

Lapointe Says Nazis See Duplessis As Friend

QUEBEC (CP)—The "battle" of pre-election speech-making produced its first "casualty" today in Liberal leader Adelard Godbout, as party heads and their followers primed themselves for the last stages of their campaign drive.

The provincial Liberal chief, Lapointe, told a rally last night at Quebec, at which the main speaker was Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, that a physician had ordered him not to make any lengthy speech at the meeting. Mr. Godbout, who spoke only briefly, said the rigors of the campaign had impaired his voice. But while the provincial leader was forced to cut short his remarks, the Liberal banner was carried on by Mr. Lapointe and another federal cabinet member—Hon. P. J. A. Carlin, Public Works Minister. Mr. Carlin delivered addresses at Joliette and Actonville.

Mr. Lapointe asserted Premier Duplessis had precipitated the October 25 general election "in an attempt to disunite Canada," and insisted that campaign issues advanced by the Premier were hailed in Germany as a triumph against Great Britain.

The justice minister said the Germans boasted of a triumph when they sank a British ship, "and they boast of another triumph in having a friend in Canada, in the province of Quebec, in the person of Premier Duplessis."

In calling the election, said the justice minister, the Premier was making "an attempt to conceal the maladministration of the Duplessis government."

Mr. Lapointe called unfounded a complaint by the Premier that the Dominion Government had prevented Quebec from borrowing in the United States.

"It is an American law, the neutrality act, and not a Canadian law that keeps Quebec from borrowing in the United States," he said.

BRITISH FREEDOM

Works Minister Cardin, at Joliette, said the French-Canadians owed their religious liberty, their freedom and their laws to England "with its regime of liberty and concession."

Opponents of the Liberal party, he said, attempted "to make you forget this and tried to stir up Quebec against the rest of Canada." He asserted it was "to help preserve the liberties of French Canada that the Liberals at Ottawa had decided to participate in the war," and added that he was "not ashamed of the millions of dollars Canada is spending to prevent the terrors of Germany and Russia from spreading throughout the world."

The Works Minister gave his word "as a minister and a responsible man that there will be no conscription." He called conscription "a serious thing" and said he had always been opposed to it. Mr. Cardin told his audience that "in 1917 conscription came and I spoke and fought against it."

"We should participate without forcing the conscience or judgment of the citizens of Quebec," he stressed.

At Actonville, Mr. Cardin said political differences had been laid aside throughout Canada with the exception of Quebec, which he called the "only province where anxiety is rife and where an attempt is being made to arouse it against the rest of Canada."

DENIES RACIAL FIGHT

Premier Duplessis, speaking to 25,000 at the Montreal baseball stadium, said that in Quebec province the rights of minorities always had been respected and he claimed the election was not a "fight of race against race." Quebec gave justice to the minorities, "but we will know how to bring fomenters of discord to reason," said the premier.

The Union Nationale leader charged that "certain English-language newspapers, including the Star and the Gazette, organs of the trusts, are concerted against me."

AGAINST TRUSTS

Paul Gouin, Action Libérale Nationale leader, speaking at Loretteville, said that both Premier Duplessis and Mr. Godbout were "avoiding carefully" any mention in their speeches of the "trust menace" in Quebec. He claimed that "the financial barons, instead of lending money to the poor farmers, lend it only to those companies in which they and their friends are interested."

As in previous campaign speeches, Mr. Gouin asserted that the "only way to save Quebec's finance" is through establishment of a provincial bank.

The A.L.N. head claimed that "a vote for Godbout will be interpreted by the Ottawa government and the imperialistic jingoists as a sign that Quebec favors full participation in the war, and eventual conscription will follow."

Although Mr. Godbout made no mention of it, he is expected to be able to speak tonight in Montreal at a rally where addresses also will be made by Mr. Lapointe and Senator A. K. Huggessen. Mr. Duplessis will speak at Rigaud and L'Assomption, while Mr. Gouin is scheduled to address a rally at Granby.

RAIN SLOWS UP TROOPS AT FRONT

By JOHN H. MARTIN

PARIS (AP)—French artillery today shelled the German road from Perle to Schindorf, just across the frontier near Luxembourg, in an effort to break up troop concentrations at the point where the Germans spilled over on French soil earlier in the week.

The latest military information said troop action was slow because of heavy rains and German reorganization of the lines which they seized when the French went on the defensive and withdrew from territory in front of the Siegfried Line.

The general staff reported last night had been quiet as rain continued on the western front and only patrols were active.

In announcing a pre-arranged withdrawal along a 22-mile northern section of the front for distances up to six miles, the French high command said its losses were light, and that the line still was "far in advance" of the permanent Maginot fortifications.

One officer and 50 men outflanked in a German manoeuvre that began Thursday, were all either killed or captured, military sources related.

They said that the patrol, operating in a muddy advance area, became cut off from its own lines, but the enemy finally broke through and captured those not already killed.

A communiqué said the lost French patrol "defended itself bravely."

$100,000,000 LOAN TO TURKEY PLANNED

LONDON (CP)—The Anglo-French-Turkish mutual assistance pact signed at Ankara will be reinforced shortly, according to authoritative sources here, by extension of a heavy Allied loan enabling Turkey to purchase war supplies in the United States.

The loan, these sources said, will be in addition to extensive credits for Turkish purchases in British markets. As a neutral, Ankara is privileged to buy from the United States and the loan would permit immediate reinforcement of Turkey's national defenses, they said.

While no definite figure was available, qualified observers predicted the loan and credits might total $100,000,000.

Conclusion of the mutual aid agreement may lead to fresh overtures by Rome for a non-aggression pact with Turkey, diplomatic quarters said. British sources emphasized the pact signed at Ankara was directed neither against Italy nor Soviet Russia, although it was designed to counter-balance any Fascist Mediterranean push or Rome's possible entry into the war.

Poland in State Of Flux, Berlin Says

BERLIN (AP)—A high command communiqué this forenoon reported only "local artillery and scouting troops activity" on the Western Front.

Correspondents were informed "all matters in Poland are in a state of flux despite the creation of west Prussia and Posen," and therefore no delineation of boundaries could be announced.

R.A.F. Reports Total 82 Dead, 80 Missing

LONDON (CP)—The names of 22 Royal Air Force men killed or fatally wounded are listed in a statement issued by the Air Ministry, raising to 82 the total known dead since the war began. Two others were believed killed. Nine others were missing, making the total missing 80 since the war began.

Sweep Winners Are Announced

DUBLIN (CP)—The Irish Hospital Sweepstakes, converted by war into a straight lottery, instead of the usual horse-race draw, started distribution today of £615,900 ($2,740,000) in prizes on the 1939 Cesarewitch.

The Cesarewitch, scheduled at Newmarket, England, October 25, was canceled because of the war. A substitute race is to be run November 2 over a different course and distance, with no connection with the sweepstakes.

Today, as in the past, the prize money was divided into units of £100,000 each, with £90,000 of each unit going to ticket holders who drew horses, and £10,000 for residual awards.

Since the race will not be run, each £90,000 unit was divided equally among the persons drawing tickets on the 95 horses entered. This gave each ticket holder £947 (about $4,260.)

The odd £15,900 of prize money was split into 50 residual prizes. The six £10,000 shares were cut into 100 prizes of £100 each, and a prize of £46 went to the seller of each ticket drawing a horse.

The sweepstakes proceeds totaled £1,353,650, with the Irish Hospitals getting £248,888.

Prize money in the past has run to twice as much as it did today. Officials said the war had caused fewer ticket sales than usual.

In former sweeps everyone who drew a horse was assured of some prize, but the amounts, ranging up to £50,000, depended on how the horses finished in the race.

The names of Canadian winners were not given out on account of the Dominion lottery law. Noms de plume of these winners of £947 each, together with ticket numbers, follows:

Raider Hunted Off Mexican Coast

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Foreign agents today investigated reports an armed sea raider of undetermined nationality had been sighted 300 miles off the east coast of Mexico on a line between the Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean Sea.

The craft was described in confidential dispatches reaching diplomatic circles as a "large ship" painted battleship grey, flying no flag and showing neither name nor port of registration.

The dispatches said batteries of guns were plainly visible to seamen aboard the freighter which reported the apparent raider's presence. The identity of the freighter which made the report was kept secret.

Registering for War

WINNIPEG (CP)—Registration of Czechoslovakians in western Canada for formation of Czech and Slovak legions to fight for the Allies has begun, Maltland Steinkopf, Czechoslovakia consul for western Canada, announced here.

Polish Legion Recruiting

OTTAWA (CP)—A Canadian contingent of Polish citizen volunteers is being raised, independently of similar efforts in the United States, to fight against Nazi Germany, it was learned here.

Originally it was hoped the volunteers would be trained in Canada, but it is now reported the force may be sent to France.

Blum Protests

PLANS (AP)—Leon Blum, former Premier of France and socialist leader, who declined to participate in the war cabinet of Premier Daladier, again today called for the return of the Parliament and criticized the French censorship, which he said had been suppressing his articles on the subject of recalling Parliament.

Increased Apple Market Expected

KELOWNA (CP)—There is a definite indication that western Canada's apple market "will improve greatly from now on, after three weeks of desultory marketing conditions," according to A. K. Loyd, chairman of the board of governors of British Columbia Tree Fruits Limited.

Early sundry apples have moved out in volume. Jonathans have been moving slowly with fairly good reception and McIntosh reds are moving more freely as the first big rush is being cleaned up, the single marketing agency president said.

Dave McNair, sales manager, is now in Ottawa conferring with the federal government's fruit branch and will visit prairie market centres before returning here.

Von Papen Unlucky

IT WOULD BE INTERESTING TO KNOW what kind of reception Herr Franz von Papen received today when he returned to Berlin from Ankara, which he left just before the signing of the Anglo-Turkish-French 15-year mutual assistance pact, to "discuss the new situation." This handsome, cultured, monocular urbane citizen of the world—Prussian to the backbone—had been selected as special Nazi envoy to Turkey last April for the express object of giving full rein to his penchant for intrigue and backstairs diplomacy. It was considered at the time that the key state of southeastern Europe would be an excellent spot in which to employ his "peculiar abilities." We suggested in these columns that the Turks had met this German before and would no doubt keep a sharp eye on his operations.

This is not to discount the uncanny methods on which Herr von Papen relies to get what his employers want. For some time before the German-Russian rapprochement Nazi intrigue had been at work in Turkey, partly among the militarily-controlled hinterland and partly among the politically-minded at Ankara. It had been thought that if a wedge could be driven between these two elements the army's tendency to foster an expansionist policy could be exploited to the benefit of Germany and, by the same token, to the discomfort of the two democracies of the west. Part of the Nazi propaganda was an attractive story about the possibilities of territorial revision, with a hint that Iraq and Syria might well become a part of Turkey. And there had been much evidence of profligate flooding of the country with German textbooks on military strategy, its lessons driven home, incidentally, by the indefatigable labors of German consuls and advisers of various kinds up and down the land. When Joachim von Ribbentrop worked the Russo-German pre-war and post-war agreements, therefore, German optimism as to Turkey's reaction ran high. Hitler and his lieutenants were obviously convinced that the labors of Von Papen, weakened after London, Paris, and Ankara reached their original understanding, would produce valuable dividends after all.

Events of the last 48 hours, following the Turkish Foreign Minister's refusal to submit to Soviet blandishments at Moscow, have proved that Von Papen was victim of a woefully wrong conception of the stability of the government at Ankara. It is obvious that he had placed altogether too much reliance on Nazi agents, allegedly conversant with the pasha mentality, and that he had failed to penetrate the significance of the tremendous political revolution which Kemal Ataturk had brought about during one of the most remarkable regimes of modern times. While Turkey's foreign policy was essentially founded on collaboration with Russia, the Kemal school had shown its inclination on numerous occasions to favor a closer association with the western powers. It desired to play its part in the pacification of Europe, and the signature of the 15-year pact yesterday was a practical manifestation of Turkey's intentions.

Not the least important aspect of the tripartite agreement, of course, is the fact that the Ankara government is still at liberty to use its influence for limiting the scope of the war by continuing its discussions with Soviet Russia. Turkey has studied the whole complex situation presented to her by the Russo-German pacts from the long view, recognizing, or so it appears to us, that her position would have become much more difficult if she had permitted herself to postpone her alliance with Great Britain and France in favor of the more doubtful association, no matter how innocuous, with the totalitarian duo.

A Tragic Figure

AT A TIME WHEN THERE IS SO MUCH collective grief and foreboding in Europe, it may seem somewhat invidious to single out an individual case, no matter how poignant. But there is one which gives reason for special pause and more than perfunctory consideration. It is that of a figure which looms up out of the troubled scene as a pathetic tragedy—Ignace Jan Paderewski, the Polish artist-statesman.

That great audience which listened spell-bound to this internationally-famous pianist at the Royal Victoria Theatre not so very long ago little thought that the former Prime Minister of Poland, sitting there alone on the stage in the half light, was soon destined to witness the destruction of the magnificent national edifice into which he had put so much of his very being a scarce 20 years ago. It is true, of course, that the Poland now in ruins was not the Poland the artist-composer helped to create. Before he retired to Switzerland, the evolutionary processes which had increased the strength of the state had also changed its political policies, policies with which he disagreed.

Bitterly grieved, Paderewski sent a manifesto to Poland. It was suppressed. A Warsaw newspaper printed it and was seized. It was nevertheless circulated by secret means. It revealed his deep disappointment with the course which events had taken, and he prophesied darkly a future which recent history has shown was to be even darker than he guessed. Wherefore in the September of 1937 Paderewski wrote and demanded immediate elections in Poland, abolition of concentration camps, and return from exile of the banished ex-premier, Witos. "Totalitarianism is alien to Polish psychology," he declared. "It will be impossible to introduce this system without provoking civil war." He warned his compatriots against Germany, saying she "had aggressive plans toward Poland." He denounced the Fascist regime advocated by Colonel Koc, condemning every political creed not founded on "Christianity, democracy, and liberty for all citizens."

The Poland Paderewski loved is now a smouldering ruin, about to be ruled by the old partitionists, tyrants more odious than the domestic tyrant who changed the system against which the great artist conducted his personal rebellion from his self-imposed exile. Paderewski is an old man—he will be 79 on November 6—with both his artistic and his political life behind him. In so tragic a situation he must take what satisfaction he can from the reflection that his artistry brought joy and beauty to thousands, and that even his statecraft may in some more enlightened day be vindicated. His Poland may rise again when Hitlerism meets the fate it deserves.

Tilting at Windmills

REICH RADIO-ANNOUNCERS PERSIST in telling the German people that the British aircraft carrier Ark Royal and the battleship Repulse have been sunk by Nazi aerial bombs. Mr. Chamberlain and the Ministry of Information have explained on several occasions that both vessels are still riding the waves without injury.

If the German Propaganda Ministry gets any satisfaction from the dissemination of what it must know is an unvarnished lie, no body will begrudge it. Right-thinking people, however, may well wonder what the great bulk of the intelligent citizens of the Reich will say when they know they have been consistently fed on untruths.

Admittedly, propaganda is usually given a certain amount of license; a little exaggeration in the verbal picture of conditions may not be seriously harmful. But neither the Ark Royal nor the Repulse is likely to be "suppressed" by verbal broadsides, no matter how penetrating their phraseology.

'Sitting This One Out'

IN ITALIAN DIPLOMATIC CIRCLES IT is suggested that the Anglo-French-Turkish mutual-assistance pact will not cause any change in Italian diplomacy. No reason is seen why this latest move on the European scene should throw Russians and Italians into one another's arms on terms similar to those adopted by the Soviet and Germany—a development predicted by optimistic Nazis in Berlin.

Premier Mussolini would prefer to see any potential expansion of Russian influence in southeastern Europe blocked as effectively as possible. For even though the Rome-Berlin axis, with its erstwhile promise of a new Mediterranean deal for Italy, is now figuratively on the scrapheap; Il Duce naturally desires to consider himself still a potent factor in this sphere of diplomatic activity. And he may loom up any minute as an extremely useful factor indeed.

The heavy mustache and the baggy sleeve give Joe Stalin marvelous accessories to laugh behind and up, respectively.

Hitler reminds us of a fidgety child. After one month he tires of war and wants to turn to other things, like getting his colonies back.

Winston Churchill refers to Russia's position as a "riddle wrapped in mystery inside an enigma" and thus clears things up considerably for the rest of us.

Indians at Niagara Falls are being taught to make arrowheads. Things are pretty bad on all the reservations, since the war shut down imports of knick-knack souvenirs from Czechoslovakia.

War Finance for Private Gain

From Ottawa Citizen

There is a substantial gain in the terms of the first war loan in this second period of the World War as compared with the first war loan in 1915. The Minister of Finance, Hon. J. L. Ralston, announced that a loan of $200,000,000 had been arranged with the Canadian chartered banks at 2 per cent. The government will actually receive the full amount of $200,000,000.

The first Canadian war loan in 1915 bore interest at 5 per cent. The government received only $97.50 of every $100 borrowed. The investors in war loans were given bonds of $100 when they lent only $97.50. They were paid 5 per cent interest on $100. They were also exempt from paying income tax on this interest.

Under the continued policy of war as a form of private enterprise, some progress has been made away from the higher profiteering in war finance. Public opinion has at least become sufficiently awake to resent war loans on such terms as they were put through, with the aid even of churches, in the former war years.

When comparisons are made, however, some inquiring Canadian people may want to know the reason for paying 2 per cent in Canada when huge sums of money are being borrowed for national purposes in the United States at less than 1 per cent. Even some state authorities are able to borrow at about 1/2 of 1 per cent.

Thoughts

Happy is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth understanding.—Proverbs 3:13.

Wisdom is to the mind what health is to the body.—Rochefoucauld.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

ALEX BOB

THE MOST ACCURATE opinion on the war doesn't come from London or Paris or Berlin. It comes from Cariboo. It doesn't come from any learned observer, either, any armchair student. It comes from an Indian named Alex Bob.

The other day Alex Bob was guiding a friend of mine in the duck marshes that lie to the east of the Cariboo Road, and as they paused for lunch Alex Bob asked how many people had been killed in Poland. My friend, having no real idea of the numbers, said he thought 100,000 had been killed.

"Huh," said Alex Bob. After a few minutes he asked again how many people had been killed. My friend said he thought 100,000. "Huh," Alex Bob said again. He munched a sandwich in silence and then, wiping his mouth with the back of his hand, he permitted himself another observation: "If you was to pile all them dead people up," he said, "they'd reach higher than that tree." My friend said yes, they would reach much higher than the tree. They would reach to the top of the mountain yonder.

Alex Bob looked at the mountain and said "Huh" again. They got on their horses and rode along the trail for 10 miles. Then, suddenly, Alex Bob turned in his saddle and said to my friend: "That's too damn many dead people!"

THINKING DANGEROUSLY

THE WAR, SO ALL the observers assure us, has made people think. They seem to feel this is a good thing, but I am not at all sure about it. On the contrary, my feeling is that the war has made people think too much, and I doubt that they are equipped to stand it.

It is hard on people, I mean, who have never thought farther than the debates of the City Council or, at most, the debates of the Legislature, to be faced with the necessity of thinking about Comintern, the Blitzkrieg, the Dardanelles and the Drang Nach Osten. It is hard on people who have hardly known an alderman to be forced to give a considered judgment concerning Josef Stalin, and yet everybody feels under that necessity. No man is so low and unpatriotic, no man so ignorant and hopeless, that he will refuse to give you a considered opinion on Josef Stalin and a professor's lecture on Adolf Hitler.

No one seeks to evade this responsibility. Everybody rallies around, ready to explain the inward meaning of European politics with the drop of a hat, or even without it. Everybody who never read the Treaty of Versailles knows all about it now, having forced himself to learn in the last six weeks. Everybody understands National Socialism and the new constitution of Russia and will gladly explain the United States Neutrality Act, which no American statesman has ever explained yet.

I tell you, it is the most wondrous feat of enlightenment since the New Learning burst upon Europe in 1453. But it is strenuous. A Renaissance takes it out of people, and I can see the signs of strain on many sides now. People get argumentative and cranky when you don't agree with their theory of the world revolution. Neighbors grow cool if you think that Trotsky may be right. Old friends quarrel over Senator Borah, and Colonel Lindbergh has shattered life-long attachments.

Thinking too much, that is the trouble.

IF WE MUST

IF I THINK WE MUST, and it is a horrid necessity, we might think a little about what is happening to Canada. So far as I can make out, without thinking at all, they are going to industrialize Canada as never before as our contribution to the war. They are going to build airplanes and munitions factories and various other industries, and already such bodies as the Vancouver City Council are clamoring for a share of the business and the prosperity.

There is always a market during war. The god of war has an insatiable maw, but the dove of peace seems to have a small crop, unable to consume much. What are we going to do with all our big new factories when the war is over? This, I suppose, sounds like unnecessary croaking, but I have the irrational notion, never popular nowadays, that it is a good thing to think a little about your own business, as well as about the world revolution; to think a little ahead, but not too much—say to next Thursday.

If you think this far ahead you will see that the war is going to do a curious thing to Canada. It is going to make an industrial nation of us, and when the war is over the industries will want tariff protection, and tariff protection, depending on an internal market, inevitably means more controls by the state so that the local populace can consume the produce of the industries.

And so, the state having assumed control of everything for the purposes of the war, I do not think it can walk out immediately afterwards during the greater complications of the peace, when the god of war has retired and the dove of peace has to consume our goods. I think the state will have to stay on the job for some time, with much unpleasantness.

It's just a vagrant thought, of course. Just a little comic relief from the war.

ENOUGH FOR ME

Enough for me that I shall greet
Each lovely dawn with dawning heart,
And, listen, hear Hope's singing sweet,
Above the roar of the busy mart.

Enough for me the lowly task,
The strength to stand against all strife;
To grateful be—this do I ask—
For simple happiness—for life!

—Theo. Currie-Arnold.

Hitler, Not Stalin,
Does the Conceding

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

AMONG THE enormous concessions that Hitler has had to make to Stalin, one of the greatest is his entire ideology.

Stalin, on the contrary, has conceded nothing. Nothing is left of National Socialism except pan-Germanism. Pan-Germanism stands for German conquest and for nothing else at all. The Fascist International is completely gone, through the Russo-German pact. No unity of ideology continues to exist between Italy, Spain and Germany.

But the Communist ideology has not been infringed in the least. All that Stalin has done is to change his strategy. His Marxian ideology is as intact as ever. He has not made a single concession to Hitler in this or any other regard. He has added the old pan-Slavic imperialism of Peter and Catherine to Bolshevism and will continue to push his program throughout the world as an international movement for the liberation of the masses, still picturing the Soviet Union as the incorporation of the theory.

The Red Army will continue to fulfill a dual role, and claim consistency with its original pledges as the fighting arm of the oppressed of the world.

I AM NOT debating here the merits or demerits of Communism. It is a philosophy of life, economics and politics which I abhor. But after the first disillusionment of the workers of the democracies with Stalin's change of strategy has passed, it may be seen that he has effected a change of front with no losses to his program or his aims.

On the other hand, the pact has brought Hitler both serious material and strategic losses and the complete collapse of his revolutionary theories. The Soviet Union can still combine war, national expansion and the Communist revolution.

National Socialism has war and national expansion, but to present itself as a revolutionary force it must adopt Communism as its banner. And this is precisely what it will probably threaten to do.

LET US SEE how much of Hitler's theory was thrown away when the momentous pact was signed between Ribbentrop and Molotov.

Much in the strange rag-bag of Nazi ideology had already been scrapped. The concept of the Volkstaat, of the purely Germanic Reich of blood-brothers, was dropped with the incorporation into the Reich of the millions of Czechs. There remained, however, the "Bulwark against Bolshevism," the "Supremacy of the Nordic man," "Germany as the cultural outpost of Europe in the east," the "Manifest destiny of Germany to rule the Slavs," "Anti-Semitism," the "Leadership principle and the concept of the racial elite," "Socialism from above and not below" and the "Natural affinity of interest between Germany, Great Britain and Italy."

AT THE TIME of the Czech crisis, Hitler culminated against the Franco-Soviet pact. The defence of Czechoslovakia would, he warned, introduce the "Red hordes" into Europe. His moral, material and military support for Franco's Spain was justified wholly on the ground of the struggle to keep Communism out of Europe. He was the White Knight of the Red Dragon.

Today he divides his spoils with the Red Dragon—and on the Dragon's terms, not on his own.

AND THE NEW IS OLD

From C.I.L. Oval

One of the oldest methods of carrying liquids, in watertight bags rather than in pots and other inflexible containers, has recently been adopted for fuel tanks in airplanes and heavy trucks. The bags are made of neoprene, a synthetic rubber which, unlike ordinary rubber, does not deteriorate from the action of oil or gasoline. Set into a metal framework, these new flexible fuel cells withstand the constant vibration which ultimately cause leakage in metal tanks.

STARRING MOSCOW

From Christian Science Monitor

Roads that once led to Rome but later took another direction toward Berlin now turn toward Moscow. Whatever Reichsfuehrer Hitler has accomplished for Germany in six years must be balanced against the fact that in as many weeks he has made the capital city of Bolshevism the capital of continental Europe.

The journeys of diplomats from the Baltic, from the Balkans and again from Berlin—tell the story. It would be wishful to encourage for the Allies; the best that lies in it at the moment is consolation. Yet the menace of the Moscow-Berlin axis can be too readily overrated.

A realistic assessment of the German-Russian relationship must include the fact that it has brought the menace of Communism much nearer to Germany than it has brought National Socialism to the strongholds of democracy.

U.S. SUCCESSION DUTIES

From New York Times

Three-fifths of a huge Vanderbilt estate, roughly speaking, have been taken by the inheritance tax. Appraised at something under $77,000,000, the F. W. Vanderbilt wealth has yielded more than $30,000,000 to the smiling treasury officials at Washington and has caused rejoicing in fiscal quarters at Albany to the tune of nearly $1,000,000.

Letters to the Editor

CANADA'S DEFENCE CONFUSION

To the Editor:—The following is taken from the Monetary Times, September 23:

"Perhaps the Prime Minister misconstrued the attitude of his people when they insisted that a new head be appointed in the Defence Department. They did not want just another minister; they wanted a man with vision and courage who could and would organize the forces of this country for the terrific ordeal of war to which we are now committed. Unfortunately, though there is no desire to prejudice the new incumbent, the one-time Minister of Labor has not yet won his spurs as a man of forthright and courageous action. Unfortunately, too many people will construe this appointment as a restoration of Mr. Rogers to the Prime Minister's that of private secretary."

"The transfer of Hon. Mr. MacKenzie from Defence Department to National Health, a slight demotion, has been attributed to his poor health. If that is true, he has been sent to the right department for free advice and treatment. The necessary removal of Major Power to make room for him, however, seems unfair. The former minister had the complete confidence of those veterans who served a quarter of a century ago, and in his official capacity of assisting those who have been suffering from disabilities resulting from that conflict, had won the respect of all."

"The appointment of the Hon. Mr. Rogers to be Minister of Defence is hardly to be classed as an act to inspire confidence. The department he now takes over is evidently in great confusion. But the department he has left shows signs of being little better organized despite four years of his determined effort. The ability that is most needed at defence headquarters would appear to be the very ability that the new appointee lacks most."

"This is hardly the time for criticism. The Prime Minister and his cabinet have a heavy responsibility to carry. What we are most concerned about is that they receive the utmost in co-operation from all parts of the country, from every individual and group in Canada. They must have that completeness of assistance from everybody if they are to prosecute the war with success and vigor. Unfortunately, we are afraid that, continuing in their present fashion, the government is alienating a large and important section of the community which would otherwise provide tremendous and effective assistance. Surely the Prime Minister can attract one man to his cabinet who will not impress the public as 'just another boy.'"

"This same Mr. MacKenzie assured us a short time ago that 'Vancouver was the best fortified city in the world.' Now these Vancouver fortifications consist of two reconditioned second-hand guns of doubtful parentage that were shipped to us from Halifax, where they had been for many years. Some people even go so far as to say they were originally taken from the decks of the Mayflower! On October 6 the Vancouver Province reported as follows:

"Hon. Norman Rogers, Minister of National Defence, has turned thumbs down on political patronage in his department."

"A circular letter has been addressed to members of Parliament advising them to 'lay off' those influences which, in normal times, are part and parcel of party government."

"When our ministers will make such shocking admissions as the above, what must the things be like that they do not tell us about?"

C. P. DEYKIN,
Maple Bay Road, Duncan.

FAULT WITH CANADA

To the Editor:—Dorothy Kynnersley seems to be finding fault with Canada and our Canadian ways. She criticizes a letter from another woman, and says the woman wrote that she recommends work for nerves, and Dorothy Kynnersley writes that "cool, clear courage" is needed also!

Maybe that other woman writer has more cool courage than we all may know of.

Also, Dorothy asks, why should Canada depend on other nations to help her free? We are all more or less dependent on one another. Generosity will be met with generosity. Strict justice with strict justice. Who gave her the authority to dictate to us? Canada is a young country, and has achieved much already, and there is no telling how much she will yet achieve. I would say if a person does not like our Canada to leave it. "A new Commandment I give unto you, that you love one another."

VIDA O. OLIVER,
1612 Pembroke Street.

A SERIOUS SITUATION

To the Editor:—There has been a lack of response in Victoria to the appeal for the Voluntary Registration of Canadian Women.

There may be people holding back because they fear that their lives will be disrupted. I suggest that they should endeavor to visualize what is happening across the seas. By preparedness we can strengthen our Empire and Allies morally and materially, and perhaps save our own country from the same terrors and privations.

There are women who will not register because they have already done so in other organizations. I would remind them that the eyes of Canada are on this survey. Every evening the Canadian Press correspondent telephones to ask me for a report. I am ashamed to give it.

I make an earnest appeal to put all personal considerations aside. It is not yet too late for a complete registration.

This is a voluntary offer of service. If and when a woman is required, and circumstances over which she has no control compel her to withdraw, she need feel no shame. None of us know what may happen to ourselves or our menfolk in the next year. But there is no excuse for not realizing that we are confronted by a situation which is more serious than any words of mine can describe.

E. FRANCES MORKILL,
750 Pemberton Road, Victoria, B.C.

TAX ON ELECTRICITY

To the Editor:—I notice the war tax on the light consumed is 2 per cent, and that on a 75 cent account the B.C. Electric collects 2 cents, while on one of $1.08 they collect 3 cents.

Now these two accounts are less than $2.00, while the collection is 5 cents or 25 per cent too much.

The small consumer seems always to be penalized as he never requires to use enough electricity to take advantage of the 2 cents per kilowatt arrangement.

Perhaps the Public Utilities Board will find out if it is necessary for Victoria to pay 5½ cents against Vancouver's 4 cents.

J. O. STINSON,
2002 Lorne Terrace.

WANTS U.S. IN

To the Editor:—Open letter to President Roosevelt. Dear Mr. President: Perhaps you would like a private citizen, not in a neutral country, to do a little expressive thinking for you, especially after what happened off the north coast of Ireland. You have yourself made it clear that mankind lives in a sphere, not in a planet of two separate hemispheres, and that civilization has become a cosmic thing—that all kingdoms live and die together on this globe. You believe also, with the best American minds, that the dead hand of the past must not control the living present; that a policy suitable for colonial days may hamper the manhood of the nation today. The shoes of the boy are unwearable by the man. The teaching and political doctrine of President Monroe and the early presidents may become heresy to the maturity of the nation today.

It was sad to see the United States fail to follow her matured President Wilson into a cosmic League for World Order, and to spend so much of her after-war thought on debt collecting from nations that had borne the tragic uttermost of the burden for common world liberty and peace. As Wilson pointed out, the United States a year before entering the war herself had been able through emoluments from the struggle to pay off all foreign debts and to acquire one-half the world's gold reserve.

Had she instead of this usurious debt collecting, which was injurious to her own economy, taken the seat she rightly won by her costly contribution to the war, in the new "Parliament of Men," all this "reeling backward to the beast" in this present chaos of madness would almost certainly have not taken place. It would have cost our country a bagatelle to take its share in the world government of the League. It has cost her enormously to rearm to assure her present safety in a world of international gangsters let loose—and may cost vastly more.

This vastly more, however, might now be avoided if instead of this small boy neutrality you now see crystal clear your nation's big chance. Your stand to make neutrality aid the democratic struggle is enlightened, though from the standpoint of your nation it certainly is not great. You see quite clearly that Britain and France are in the front line trenches fighting the battle of the United States—and all other neutral democracies against a monstrous world menace. If you, Franklin D. Roosevelt, could make your nation to be seized of its opportunity to forthrightly take its stand at the head of the file of all neutral democracies to throw in their united weight into the scale now against the marauders, the war might speedily be ended and the vastly more of cost be escaped.

This is not only an opportunity but an obligation in the cause of freedom and humanity, especially as the aloofness of the United States from the League is one of the major factors in the present debacle of civilization. If you are a strong nation you should prove yourselves strong in the crushing of this insolent demonic assault against the peace and order of the world.

A. O. PATERSON,
Ash Road, R.R. 4.

UPSETTING NAZI APPEAL

To the Editor:—I wonder how far the German philosopher is correct in stating that it is an historical necessity, or a demand of Causal evolution, as he puts it, that Nordic nationalism, having outlived its uses, makes room for Slav socialism? The Nazis, with their nations of world domain, compel the vanquished, at least outwardly, to become Hitlerites. But the Soviets know that no force in the world can change an ideology; conversion must come from within! Of course, they do their utmost to give military protection against aggression to their far-flung frontiers. It is true they bagged from defunct Poland 77,000,000 people, but these were Russians, and not Poles! Moreover, the Reds transferred to the rightful owner the town of Vilna, stolen by the Poles from Lithuania after the World War.

Ever since the Socialist Revolution the Soviets have been scrupulous peace observers, in spite of the capitalistic encirclement of wanton war-breeder. They need peace, and they are going to enforce it, if possible by persuasion and peace pacts. They made a non-aggression pact with Germany, and concluded only yesterday a barter pact with England; lumber in exchange for rubber and tin.

Fifteen hundred years since, the blonde brutes of the uncouth north broke up the Roman Empire. History often repeats itself. Are the Bolshevik beasts (as some of us condescend to call the great Russian nation) about to upset the Nordic appeal?

ERNEST P. HORRITZ.

DEFINING "ISMS"

To the Editor:—Here are some useful definitions from the Selkirk Record:

Socialism: You have two cows, you keep one and give one to your neighbor.

Communism: You have two cows, you give both to the government; the government gives you back part of the milk.

Fascism: You have two cows, you keep the cows; you give the milk to the government, the government sells part of the milk to you.

Nazism: You have two cows, the government shoots you and takes both of the cows.

The New Deal: You have two cows, the government shoots one cow, milks the other and pours the milk down the sewer.

Capitalism: You have two cows, you sell one and buy a bull.

"FROM SUCH WOMEN"

To the Editor:—I am shocked to see where the Eastern Ontario Women's Institutes are sending in a resolution to the Dominion government to have the vote taken from relief recipients, and my inner self just cried, "Dear Lord, keep our country out of the power of such women." The majority of people on relief are not there because they want to be. The unemployed and men on relief are the ones that many say should enlist first. Bend them off to suffer untold misery, or give their lives to keep us free, but

To Relieve Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness And Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness, or who are growing hard of hearing, and have head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula, and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist one ounce of Parmit (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmit is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form, or distressing, rumbling, hissing sounds in their ears, should give this recipe a trial.

Barnard Raps Safety Soldiers

"There are enough armchair generals hanging around Ottawa pestering the government for soft jobs to fit out several armies. But the government appears to be wise to their kind and consequently they aren't getting very far. Personally I think the new recruits should be allowed to bayonet practice on these wind-bags instead of dummies."

That was one of many sidelights of A. Barnard, Nanaimo, British Columbia representative on the Dominion command of the Canadian Legion, injected into his address before a mass meeting of legion members in the Britannia Branch auditorium last night.

Mr. Barnard attended the emergency meeting of the executive of the Canadian Legion in Ottawa on September 18, called to see what the legion could render in the present emergency. It was the legion policy drawn up at this session, which was immediately forwarded to Prime Minister Macdonald King, and other matters concerning the organization, which he outlined to the local veterans.

"At the Ottawa meeting the legion reiterated its stand to do everything possible to assist constituted authority and to promote national unity and maintain public confidence," Mr. Barnard said. "The speaker told the gathering the legion had not been able to learn yet in what capacity ex-servicemen will be utilized in the present situation, but he assured them everything possible was being done to get veterans employed on a reasonable basis. This year, he pointed out, a Dominion-wide survey was made to learn in what capacity individual veterans would be most useful in the defence of Canada during a national emergency. Results of the survey were turned over to the authorities, but when the emergency came the R.C.M.P., which legion officials had always understood would carry out the plan, did not have machinery to put the scheme into working order but Mr. Barnard believed things would be straightened out shortly."

Mr. Barnard said that reports heard at the September meeting of apparent deficiencies in clothing and equipment, and failure to afford mobilized troops minimum comforts and convenience to which they were entitled were causing grave unrest among ex-servicemen of Canada, and tending to impair public confidence in military authority and in the government.

The legion, therefore, in its brief to the government, urged immediate steps be taken to investigate conditions in all mobilization centres, to ensure immediate correction of existing grievances and to remove those who may be found inefficient or negligent on the duties entrusted to them.

This apparently had been carried out, the speaker said. The brief assured the Dominion Government that the legion, with its entire resources, was ready to give its support. The legion had repeatedly endorsed the principal of mobilization by universal service. But it also sought to secure national unity and in view of the fact that the parliament of Canada in the interests of unity had, for the time being, decided upon voluntary enlistment, the legion had prepared to co-operate to that end, Mr. Barnard declared.

Other recommendations made to the government were: That volunteers for service be assured on their return the same place in civil life, which they might reasonably be assumed to have obtained had they not enlisted; that those who do not see active service be prevented from profiteering; that industry and wealth be mobilized and used to the best advantage of the country; that steps already taken to regulate cost of living be developed and rigorously pursued; that the legion be given the same official recognition as that accorded the Y.M.C.A. in the last war in activities essential to the welfare of the troops, such as athletics, canteens, etc.; that ex-servicemen would welcome a fresh, clear-cut statement from the government that it intends to prosecute war with the utmost vigor in the closest co-operation with the Empire and with no political interference with military authorities.

October 20, 1914
AMSTERDAM—The Berliner Tageblatt in an editorial appears to renounce the view recently prevalent in Germany that the destruction of Great Britain is the main object of the present war. "Because Russia threatened us," it says, "and because its perpetual menace is intolerable, the German people went to war."

LONDON—The Allies have recaptured Ostend, according to the Morning Post correspondent in the north of France, who says he has been given this information on excellent authority.

WASHINGTON—Seventy-four foreign-built vessels with an aggregate of 266,373 gross tons have sought protection of the Stars and Stripes by taking American registry since the European war began, according to an official statement issued today by the Department of Commerce. Great Britain has been the heaviest loser, as 62 of the vessels previously sailed under the British flag.

Safeway Opens Modern Market

Opening of the new Safeway market at 707 Fort Street yesterday was a gala event for local shoppers, who flocked to the new store from morning till closing time. This market is considered one of the most modern provision markets in western Canada.

The new quarters, which have been expanded and completely renovated during the past two weeks, have a floor area well over 6,000 feet, with latest type of display fixtures for fruit and vegetables in season and a general and convenient area for all shopping.

The meat department has 36 feet of refrigerated counter display space with a separate refrigerated counter for fish, and general storage refrigerator chamber occupying a space of 24 by 12 feet. A special soft lighting effect has been achieved by the use of daylight globes on chrome fixtures. The color scheme is carried out in ivory and Nile green, which gives a soft and restful appearance.

Unit gas heaters installed by the B.C. Electric insure an even temperature at all times for shoppers. Many housewives enjoyed shopping yesterday with the new type of baby-carriage shopping baskets which are a feature at the Safeway stores.

The expanded service facilities of the new store will be under the management of George Morgan, while Jack Connelly will be in charge of the meat department and Joe Bantley in the fruits and vegetables. The employees of the Safeway stores formerly at 1627 Douglas Street and 739 Fort Street have been transferred to the new market.

All work in connection with the new market was carried out by local labor.

ISLAND LUMBER IN RAID SHELTER

While loading a ship with lumber at Westholme, Vancouver Island, some months ago, M. A. Thomas of the up-island town printed his name and address on a piece of the cargo, afterwards forgetting the incident.

Two days ago he was surprised to receive a letter from Farnham, Surrey, England, from a man who signed himself H. G. Bryce, acknowledging the printing on the piece of lumber. The letter read: "It will no doubt interest you to know that my attention was drawn to your name and address printed on a piece of lumber timber here and I am writing to let you know the place it arrived at and what it has been used for."

"This (Farnham, Surrey) is a busy little town of picturesque old buildings and lovely surroundings, 38 miles from old London. It is three miles from Aldershot, a big military centre, and there is more or less of a continual procession of army tanks, trucks and other rolling stock of every description winding its way through the narrow main street. I am the air raid warden and the lumber is being used to make an air raid shelter in the cellar under the building. This cellar is quite large and has several rooms and alcoves. A tunnel, since bricked up, from the cellar used to run to Farnham Castle, about a quarter of a mile up the street. We have only had one air raid warning so far, but we are on the alert night and day. The people here carry on as usual, cheerful and confident. The shops are very good here and business is booming. The two picture shows are going strong."

"Canada stands ace high over here. We were grateful for the wonderful reception given to the King and Queen, and the loyal support given to us in this war of Hitler's. We are proud to be associated with Canadians who

Armor Wearing May Be Revived

NEW YORK—Wearing of armor, like that of the knights of old, only proof against bullets and shell fragments, is likely to come into fashion again, even among the civil population, predicts Stephen V. Grancsay, curator of arms and armor in the Metropolitan Museum of Art here.

Armored men have already been reported as having been seen repairing the barbed wire in front of German entrenchments on the western front.

"Armor wearing is not ideal," Mr. Grancsay said. "However, a soldier necessarily has to bear great discomforts. I am sure that with the light alloys developed today armor will be used extensively, even by the civilians as a protection against flying debris. Armor would be effective against the shells falling from anti-aircraft guns. As for civilians wearing armor—some people are reckless and others are cautious, and I should think that it would depend upon their natures whether they would go in lightly or strongly for armor."

Among the drawbacks of armor-wearing mentioned by Mr. Grancsay are loss of agility by the infantryman (a suit of medieval plate armor weighed 50 pounds), and the terrific consequences to an armored man of running into an electrically charged wire entanglement. However, in a war of position, such as seems to be developing on the western front, armor might be a very considerable advantage to machine gunners, anti-tank gun crews, and other troops not required to move fast, jump shell holes, etc.

Every soldier in all armies these days wears a helmet, and if a helmet is good protection, Mr. Grancsay reasons, why should not other body armor be equally good protection.

Mr. Grancsay has the backing of no less an authority than General Pershing, whom he quotes: "Effort should be continued towards the development of satisfactory form of personal armor."

Two and a half years ago, on April 7, 1937, Mr. Grancsay predicted the return of body armor, in a Science Service radio broadcast.

Armor has never been entirely abandoned. During the first World War, some of the German machine-gunners were equipped with breastplates. The heavy French cavalry had only just abandoned the wearing of their shining steel cuirasses, which were counted on to turn sword, lances in a charge, though it was known they would not stop bullets. And the wearing of bullet-proof vests, which are armor even if not made of metal, is a commonplace among dictators, gangsters and other men who have reason to fear attempts at assassination.

Fast Garand Rifle Features New Arms

WASHINGTON—Newest army weapons will be put through their paces on October 12 at the Army Proving Ground at Aberdeen, Md. The audience will consist of members of the Army Ordnance Association, representatives of the press and newsmen, and other persons receiving permits from the War Department.

In contrast to the hush-hush policy of most foreign nations the army is putting its trump cards face up on the table. Only weapons still in the course of development, and not ready for production and use, are being withheld from the demonstrations. Weapons ranging all the way from the infantryman's rifle to the massive 14-inch coast defence rifles mounted on railway cars will be shown, as well as recent models of tanks, searchlights, etc.

Particular interest will centre on the new Garand semi-automatic rifle, which can be discharged as fast as the trigger can be pulled, giving the infantryman an almost machine-gun-like rate of fire. None of the nations now fighting or mobilized in Europe and Asia has a weapon like this.

New also is the whippet-like 37-mm. anti-tank gun, which can drive a one-pound armor-piercing projectile like a small thunderbolt through any tank that gets within a thousand yards of it. It has a sister weapon in the 37-mm. automatic anti-aircraft cannon, which works like an outside machine-gun, sending a close-spaced stream of high-explosive shells high into the air to cancel the schedules of would-be raiding bombers.

Big brother in the field artillery family is the new 155-mm. (6.1-inch) heavy rifle, which can hurl a 100-pound shell to an extreme range of 25,000 yards with deadly accuracy. This type of weapon is designed for action against opposing batteries, as well as to tear up roads and search out supply trains, ammunition dumps, enemy headquarters, etc., far behind the lines.

French Air Force Gets $791,000,000

PARIS (AP)—France has appropriated 34,421,000,000 francs ($791,000,000) for air force equipment.

By special decree published in the official Journal, the air ministry will receive 6,601,000,000 francs as credit for immediate expenditure under the 1939 extraordinary armament budget, plus 27,820,000,000 in supplementary credits.

The new credits for the air force were the major part of a total of 34,553,000,000 francs ($794,000,000) which was opened up as ordinary and extraordinary credits.

The supplementary air force appropriation was in addition to the regular budget figures voted by parliament last December.

Weddings

BRADSHAW-PEDEN

At a very quiet ceremony at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church today at 1:30, Rev. J. L. W. McLean united in marriage Marjorie Elizabeth, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Peden, 2655 Cavendish Avenue, and Corl. Robert O. Bradshaw of Work Point Barracks; only son of Mrs. H. Johnson and the late Mr. Bradshaw, Winnipeg.

WILSON-BONNER

A wedding of interest to many Victoria friends took place at Pembroke, Ont., on October 9 between Irene Margaret, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Bonner, Pembroke, and Brian Walkem Wilson, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Walkem Wilson, 978 Esquimalt Road. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will make their home in Montreal.

PHILLIPS-HUTCHISON

SEATTLE — A quiet ceremony was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Sturton, Seattle, Wash., sister of the groom, on October 7 at 8 p.m., when Catherine S. Hutchison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Hutchison, Happy Valley, became the bride of Harold P. Phillips, youngest son of Mrs. N. Phillips, 2838 Colquhoun Avenue, Victoria, Rev. H. Allen officiating. Given in marriage by Mr. H. G. Sturton, the bride wore a silk crepe dress of teal blue, made in the new bustle style, with blue accessories and a corsage bouquet of gardenias, pink rosebuds and orange blossoms. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Heggen, Seattle. Mrs. Heggen wearing a turquoise blue velvet dress with a corsage of gardenias and rosebuds.

After the ceremony an informal reception was held. Mrs. N. Phillips, mother of the groom, received in a dress of navy blue lace, with a corsage of hibiscus.

The supper table was covered with a hand-made cutwork cloth, a bowl of pink chrysanthemums and white candles in amber holders centred the table. A beautifully-decorated wedding cake was cut by the bride. Later they left for Everett by car.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Young and family, Kent, Wash.; Mrs. N. Phillips, Mrs. H. Rogers and Mrs. L. Phillips, Victoria.

GARDEN CITY

Garden City United Women's Association met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. P. Brown, Whiteside Road. Mrs. A. P. Fryatt presided. Encouraging reports were received from the secretary, Mrs. W. Armstrong, and the treasurer, Mrs. W. A. Hoy. The report of the visiting committee was presented by Mrs. C. C. Alexander, the new members of this committee for November being Mrs. R. Young and Mrs. W. P. Brown. Arrangements were made for the annual bazaar at the church, November 8, to be followed by a social and musical program. Mrs. W. J. Parker and Mrs. Hoy were appointed conveners for the November meeting.

Food Was Scarce

LIVERPOOL, Eng. — Because she left her two young children alone for two days with only a loaf of bread for food while she went to a "do," 23-year-old Mrs. Sarah Ellen Williams was sentenced to three months in prison.

Brigadier and Mrs. J. Sutherland Brown, Bowker Place, left last night for Vancouver to spend the week-end as the guests of Major and Mrs. Austin Taylor, "Shannon."

Mr. J. D. Hartley, of Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. of Trail, B.C., who has been on an extended visit to California, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hartley, Belleville Street.

Mrs. C. M. Lisco, formerly of Spokane, Wash., with her baby daughter, Ann, is spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. H. E. Sims, Newport Avenue, before joining Mr. Lisco in Portland, where they will make their home.

Mrs. A. A. Weigle of Seattle, and her little daughter, Prudence, have returned home after spending a few days with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Webb, Stannard Avenue.

After a four and a half months' holiday, during which she spent a month in Hongkong with friends and visited Shanghai, Honolulu, the South Sea Islands and Australia, Mrs. Agnes Golly of Ten Mile Point has returned to Victoria and is temporarily a guest at the Empress Hotel.

Mrs. Watson Smith (nee Marjorie Morris) was the guest of honor at a small luncheon party and miscellaneous shower held at the home of Mrs. A. E. Tudor, 2639 Shakespeare Street, on Wednesday. The gifts were concealed in a cave which was reached by a winding trail. Guarding the entrance to the cave were the two small granddaughters of the hostess, Louise and Marilyn Naysmith. They welcomed the honored guest to the cave, presenting her with a corsage of rosebuds and gladioli, also with the many useful and novel gifts stored away in the cave. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in amusing contest, the prize-winners being Mrs. Watson Smith, Miss Robertson and Louise Naysmith. The invited guests were Mrs. Watson Smith, Mrs. F. G. Morris, Mrs. W. Smith, Mrs. H. Barker, Mrs. R. Eastham, Mrs. J. Naysmith, Miss C. Robertson, Miss M. Jones and Louise and Marilyn Naysmith.

Miss Vera Main, a November bride-to-be, was the guest of honor when Miss Alice Craig entertained on Wednesday evening with a kitchen shower at her home, 766 King's Road. The rooms were attractively arranged with autumn flowers, and on their arrival Miss Main and her mother were presented with corsage bouquets of pink carnations. The many useful gifts were concealed beneath a miniature greenhouse. Games were enjoyed, prize-winners being Miss Main and Miss Bernice Turner. Mrs. J. Main poured tea and Mrs. N. Craig coffee at a table covered with a lace cloth and centred with a bowl of bronze chrysanthemums. The invited guests included Mrs. J. Main, Mrs. E. Keir, Mrs. N. Craig, and the Misses Gladys Huick, Margaret George, Marion Kerr, Mildred Morris, Lydia Gilliland, Mary Loudoun, Bernice Turner, Kay Stone, Ella Baron, Dorcas Muir, Margaret Walker, Muriel Mann, Winnie Graham, Vera Marsh and Alice Craig.

Mrs. Stanley V. Garrod of K&B, daughter of the late Mr. Arthur Lee of Victoria, has arrived in the city with her son and daughter, and will spend some months here. Mr. Garrod is an official of the Canadian Pacific Steamships in Japan.

This afternoon Mrs. Aubrey Kent was hostess at a bridge party at her home on Douglas Street, the funds of which are to be devoted to the wool work fund of the Navy League Chapter I.O.D.E. This evening Mrs. Kent will also be hostess at a similar party for the chapter. Mrs. Evan Hanbury also entertained at a bridge party this afternoon at her home on Graham Street for this fund.

In honor of their cousin, Miss Vera Heal, whose marriage to Mr. Ralph Marshall will take place shortly, the Misses Joyce and Barbara Heal entertained at a kitchen shower yesterday afternoon at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Heal, East Saanich Road. The rooms were decorated with pink and white dahlias. Three-year-old Renee Heal, dressed as a dainty old-fashioned lady, concealed the many useful gifts beneath her wide pink crepe paper skirt. Tea was served from a table prettily arranged with crystal vases of pink and white dahlias and tall pink tapers in silver holders. The invited guests were Miss Vera Heal, Miss A. King, Mesdames Gilbert E. Heal, J. Mycock, J. T. Merryman, E. C. Heal, J. Oliver, V. G. Heal, J. Jones, W. Heal, H. Stocks, E. R. Heal, Misses Nancy Jeffrey, Flo Dunlop, Doreen Mycock, Phyllis Heal and Eileen Merryman.

HALLOWE'EN DANCE

A Halloween dance will be held at the J.B.A.A. clubhouse on Friday evening, October 27. Final plans for the affair were made at the meeting of the J.B.A.A. Women's Auxiliary held recently at the home of Miss Eugenie Doherty, the convenor.

The clubhouse will be appropriately decorated for the dance, and there will be a good floor show. Zala's orchestra will provide music from 9:30 till 1:30. Tickets for the affair may be obtained from Miss Eugenie Doherty, Olympia Avenue, or from any member.

Mr. John Lind of Vancouver will come over to Victoria tomorrow to spend the week-end here with friends.

Complimentary to Miss Anne Kirkpatrick-Crockett, whose marriage to Corporal Raymond S. Gray will take place this month, Miss Margaret Armstrong entertained at a shower recently at her home on Kingston Street. Upon her arrival the guest of honor was presented with a corsage of orchid gladioli and the gifts concealed in a decorated box topped by a miniature bride. Games were enjoyed and refreshments were served from a daintily-appointed table centred with a silver bowl of heather and pink carnations. The invited guests included: Mesdames M. Kirkpatrick-Crockett, P. O. Gray, W. Mosedale, R. Armstrong, the Misses Evelyn Anderson, Marjory Alexander, Mary Alexander, Carol Copeland, Margaret Goldsmith, Olive Maclean, Bernice Miller, Lynn Perry, Betty Player and Margaret Stevens.

In honor of Miss Edna Foulds, whose wedding to Mr. R. W. Fairclough will take place at St. John's Church on October 28, Miss Eileen Sargent and Miss Edna Donaldson were hostesses at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Sargent, Wellington Avenue. The bride-to-be was presented with a corsage bouquet of Tallisman roses. The gifts were concealed in a miniature house. The evening was spent in playing games, the prize-winners being Miss Freda Webb, Miss Edna Foulds and Miss Eva Mason. Supper was served from a table prettily decorated with late fall flowers. The invited guests were Mesdames M. A. Foulds, W. R. Fairclough, F. Sargent, D. Donaldson, J. Duncan, D. Bullock, Misses Edna Foulds, Eileen Sargent, Freda Webb, Jessie Patterson, Edna Donaldson, Eva Mason, Evelyn Foulds and "Pat" Sargent.

Sales in London Reveal Increase On Fells—Fox Up Over Twenty-Five Per Cent

LONDON (CP). — More than half of the pelts on offer at the Hudson's Bay Company's fur auction sale now in progress here have been sold, company officials announced recently. The sale had still two days to run. Musquash pelts all have been taken at a price increase of 30 per cent to head the active list. About 47 per cent of the beaver have been sold at an advance of 10 per cent. Only 40 per cent of the cross fox furs were left, with those sold reporting an increase of 7 1/2 per cent. 60 per cent of the red fox offered found buyers at a price advance of 10 per cent, and all but 5 per cent of the white fox pelts were bought at prices 25 per cent over the previous sale's level. Prices were not available until the sale was concluded.

Registration Will Close Saturday

Offers Wide Field Of Service in Case of Emergency

Women's war work covers a wider range than rolling bandages, knitting socks or driving an ambulance—valuable as those contributions may be—and it is to find out just what Victoria women are capable of doing in an emergency that the Voluntary Registration of Women started here this week and closes tomorrow.

Every woman from 16 to 65 has an opportunity of helping to destroy Hitlerism, "in her own backyard," by rallying to let the authorities know what she would like to do should an emergency arise. It may be through the medium of a paid job in some new industry created by the war, or by volunteer work such as driving a car, making socks for soldiers, or in a hundred other ways. Perhaps it may be as an air pilot, more likely it will be some service for the morale of the country in her home or office—less dramatic but equally patriotic, for patriotic service today has a wider meaning than was the case 25 years ago.

Tomorrow is the last day for registration, and the committees—every one of whom has given her services voluntarily—hope that the women of Victoria will avail themselves of the opportunity of recording their willingness to serve their country, either in a remunerative or voluntary capacity. Don't forget that by

Canadian Members Report at New York Convention

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—While housewives bemoan the shortage of sugar to add in canning fruits for winter use, Isabel Davidson, director of home economics at the London Normal School, gives a few hints on sugarless canning.

Fruit canned without sugar may be taken from jars and sprinkled with sugar at the time of eating and is just as good, she says. Or the liquid may be boiled down into a syrup by the addition of sugar when wanted.

To can fruit without sugar you wash fruit and blanch in boiling water, dip into cold water and peel. Pack fruit into hot sterilized jars then take pure water which has been sterilized by 20 minutes' boiling and pour over fruit in jars right up to the top. Screw tops on tight and place jars on rack in boiler of water of same temperature, allowing water to come to within an inch of top of jars. Boil quarts 20 to 25 minutes, pint jars 18 to 20 minutes. Remove from hot water, make sure tops are tightly screwed and invert to prevent leakage.

Another tip from Miss Davidson—if you have no dark room to store fruit in, wrap each jar in brown paper.

I.O.D.E. Urged to Offer Services

Subversive Elements At Work, Says Senator Iva Falles

PETERBOROUGH, Ont. (CP)—Senator Iva Falles of Peterborough, addressing the semi-annual meeting of the Ontario Chapter of Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, said last night Canadian women would face wartime tasks just as pioneer women had faced apparently insurmountable tasks in their time.

Sensor Falles warned that subversive elements were without doubt working in Canada as in Europe to bring about disintegration of the country from within and attempting to break up the British Empire. The pioneering spirit inherent in Canadian women could stamp this out, she said.

To correct an erroneous impression regarding the Voluntary Registration of Canadian Women, of which she is national head, Senator Falles declared their work did not duplicate that done by the Red Cross, I.O.D.E. and kindred organizations, but is a survey of the qualifications of Canadian women rather than their enlistment for active work.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Home service work does not carry with it the glamour of overseas service but is equally important, Mrs. W. B. Hopkins of Toronto told the convention. It was Mrs. Hopkins' first public message since election to the national presidency of the I.O.D.E. She urged members to offer their services to existing organizations rather than form new ones.

FIRST UNITED Y.P.S.

The weekly meeting of the First United Y.P.S. was held on Tuesday evening when the third in a series of discussion groups was held. The meeting opened with the business, conducted by the president, Mary Loudoun. After the discussion groups had met the devotion was taken by Iris Dickson.

Next week's meeting will be the last of the discussion groups and a full attendance is urged.

U.S. Fellowships Open to Girls

British Girls Are Eligible for Valuable Awards

WASHINGTON (CP)—To enable women to make their contribution to the world, 15 fellowships—some of them international—most of them carrying a $1,500 stipend, will be awarded women scholars by the American Association of University Women next year.

Generally, candidates in line for these scholarships are women who have completed two years' residence work for the Ph.D. degree or who have already received the degree, but unusual intellectual capacity is the only necessary requisite.

"As an organization for women primarily interested in women's activities, we are necessarily interested in fitting women for the highest places in the scholarly world," said Dr. Katharine Jeanne Gallagher of Goucher College, Baltimore, chairman of the committee on fellowship awards. "We wish women to have their part in spreading the boundaries of knowledge and making more accurate the information we have."

Nine of the fellowships are restricted to American women for study in the United States or abroad—two for arts, science and literature, one for physics, chemistry or biology and the rest for graduate study or research in any field.

Of the six international fellowships one is open to British women for graduate study in American universities. Another is open only to Latin-American women for advanced study in the U.S. in preparation for service in their native countries. Two more are open to women of all countries on the understanding the candidate study in some country other than her own.

Another, offered by the International Federation of University Women, is for advanced research in physical sciences. The remaining scholarships, given by the British Federation, is for research in London. Closing date for applications to Washington is December 15, 1939.

CATHEDRAL A.Y.P.A.

Christ Church Cathedral A.Y.P.A. had a meeting in the form of a mock conference on Wednesday evening. The hall was decorated with blue and white streamers and A.Y.P.A. shields, and members were given name slips to show what branch or council they were supposed to represent. The meeting opened with hymn and prayers. It was announced that the Cathedral branch had been winners of the debate against St. John's on Monday evening.

Hilda Fairhurst was elected chairman of a committee to collect ideas for the A.Y.P.A. stall at the W.A. bazaar on November 15. Margaret Gower asked members to support the telephone calls which will be held between October 21 and November 18.

After the business session there was a mock banquet, during which toasts were drunk in lemonade, and conference songs were sung. There followed a report of the actual provincial conference (held during Thanksgiving at Quilcom) by the three delegates, Chris Howland, Ejan Elliott and Peggy Mulliner.

Next Wednesday evening in the Memorial Hall at 8 there will be a Halloween social, arranged by Group 5 under Peggy Mulliner. All members were told they must come in costume; those who do not will be forced into one at the door.

Shirley

Members of Shirley Women's Institute were guests of the secretary, Mrs. W. Fry, at the regular meeting on Thursday afternoon with the president, Mrs. W. J. Shannon, in the chair.

Mrs. T. E. Cross was appointed official delegate.

A report was given by a committee appointed to interview the Public Works Department regarding surfacing of the west coast road between Tugwell Creek and Jordan River. Facts and figures were laid before the department on the travel by cars and trucks over this road and the revenue accruing to the government as a result.

Lindbergh's Views Astonish Tunney

BOSTON (CP)—Gene Tunney, former heavyweight boxing champion, told the annual meeting of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts here he was "shocked" at the "impertinence" of some of the declarations of Col. Charles Lindbergh in a recent broadcast, especially those concerning Canada.

Declaring he was personally acquainted with Lindbergh and had great respect for him, Tunney said he could not understand how Lindbergh, after being sheltered in England, could suddenly "desert" that country and make the proposals that he put forward.

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Brig. General Hugh S. Johnson says Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt's comment on Col. Charles Lindbergh's recent broadcast was "the kind of stuff" that got the United States into the first Great War.

"Colonel Lindbergh," the former national recovery administration head said in an address here, "for speaking his pro-American opinion against other policies has been called pro-Nazi by such emotionally-biased pro-war pundits as Walter Lippman and Dorothy Thompson and now by the First Lady of the Land herself."

Mrs. Roosevelt, in her newspaper column yesterday, said Miss Thompson "sensed in Col. Lindbergh's speech a sympathy with Nazi ideals which I thought existed but could not bring myself to believe was really there."

Bringing up Baby

A safer, happier, easier task in these days of modern knowledge. For instance, Irradiated Carnation Milk for bottle-fed babies—now so widely prescribed by baby specialists everywhere. They've found that babies digest Carnation much more easily. Carnation never changes, is absolutely sterile, is the most convenient milk to use. And babies need the extra "sunshine" vitamin D in Irradiated Carnation Milk.

Carnation is just whole milk with part of the natural water taken out; sterilized so it keeps on the pantry shelf indefinitely; homogenized to give every drop equal creamy smoothness; irradiated for extra "sunshine" vitamin D. And, too, Carnation is economical in price.

Carnation does wonders for cooked dishes calling for milk or cream—saves on cream bills for cereals, coffee and fruit.

Write for these Carnation books: "The Contented Baby" is free. The big, colorful Carnation Cook Book is 15c (postpaid). Carnation Company Limited, Abbott St., Vancouver.

ARMED MERCHANT SHIPS PLY PACIFIC—First armed merchant ship to put into a United States Pacific Coast port—the Pacific freighter, her stern bristling with two big guns, as she moored at San Francisco. Note the sandbag barricades on the rear deck.

COMMANDER OF SUB THAT SUNK ROYAL OAK CHEERED IN BERLIN—Throngs of Germans line the Wilhelmstrasse to cheer the command and crew of the Nazi U-boat which sunk the British battleship Royal Oak as they pass en route to the Reich Chancellery, to be received by the Fuehrer. Earlier Lieut.-Comm. Prien (standing in car foreground) had described to a German radio audience how he and his U-boat crew had sunk the Royal Oak. (Acme radio-telephoto.)

JAP TANKER UNDER ARMED GUARD—Japanese sentries aboard the naval tanker Iro patrol the ship as she loads petroleum in Los Angeles harbor, and authorities are investigating reports of dock workers being threatened by these armed guards. (Acme radio-telephoto.)

SO THIS IS PARIS!—British soldiers are pictured quizzing a Paris gendarme while on furlough in gay Paris.

CHIEF LIAISON OFFICER—Reported quartered in France, as is his eldest brother, the Duke of Windsor, the Duke of Gloucester (left) is a major-general and chief liaison officer for the British army. He is seen with General Lord Gort (center), commander-in-chief of the British expeditionary forces. This picture was taken at an undisclosed English point.

BELGIUM GUARDS HER FRONTIERS—A portable Belgian army radio transmitting and receiving unit on patrol duty at an unidentified position on the Belgian border is shown here. Many Belgian troops are now on border duty as a precaution against possible invasion of Belgium and other neutral countries by Germany in an offensive against the Allies. The motorcycle sidecar contains the portable receiver-transmitter. Current is furnished by the motor-operated dynamo.

72 SHIPS DOWN IN 45 DAYS OF WAR—Renewal of Nazi submarine campaign with sinking of six Allied merchantmen and British battleship Royal Oak brings wartime total of 70 commerce vessels and two warships sunk. All but two of 36 British vessels down were torpedoed or shelled by U-boats. Mines claimed 11 of neutral vessels, subs the rest. Light losers at first, French now record five ships lost, all to U-boat attacks. British warships sank three German vessels, a fourth struck a mine.

'Tired of Living' Misses Death in Stolen Airplane—Sudbury's stolen airplane case came to a climax, October 18, when Joseph S. Farrendon pleaded guilty to stealing the ship and crashing it in the Pickering River. Fred Seguin, watchman, who reported the theft, was arrested, charged with supplying false information. The machine is shown as it was when searchers found it. Farrendon's arrest followed in Parry Sound. His plea was that he was "tired of living."

PRISONER IN GERMANY—Tom Reilly, 20, talented son of Captain James Reilly, Twickenham, Middlesex, England, and formerly of St. Thomas, Ont., was interned in Leipzig, Germany, at the outbreak of the war. A musician, he was on a concert tour of Germany.

ON THE NOSE—Canine nose prints are as sure identification marks as human fingerprints, says Chester Nichols, dog warden of Evanston, Ill., who has asked all city residents to have their pets "printed" like this. Ink is applied to glass plate with roller; plate is pressed against dog's nose; then nose is pressed against a card.

GOD OF LOVE HIDES—One of Britain's best-known landmarks—the bronze statue of Eros, God of Love, tilting his arrows above the fountain in Piccadilly Circus—will disappear because of war. The London county council announced it will be stored in a place of safety.

TURKEY TO STAND BESIDE BRITAIN—Turkey, announcing the rupture of negotiations for a friendship treaty with Russia, yesterday signed formal mutual assistance treaties with Great Britain and France. The Turkish military mission sent to London, is pictured in session with the British recently.

BATTERED BY TERRIFIC STORMS IN THE ATLANTIC—The United States liner President Harding, en route to New York with 597 passengers, called for medical assistance when a terrific storm injured a score of passengers.

Sports Mirror

IF YOU ARE of that coterie who think sport loses its main function when it becomes a spectacle and the enthusiast only looks on, you should revise your estimate by following a golf exhibition.

There are many who will argue, and with some merit, that athletic activity has value only when it is a participating proposition. They decry the decadence of an age which sets its champions to work for the entertainment of the multitude and speak glowingly of those games which draw no spectators and are played purely for the sake of the exercise and enjoyment of the sport.

Of course the thesis is highly biased. Just as well might the critic maintain that an audience should not attend the opera, that its members should content themselves with the doubtful melody of their own efforts in the bathtub.

That, your play-the-sport, don't watch-it protagonist will say, is different. Maybe it is. Where?

But this golf gallery issue.

Apart from the fact that your spectator in that sport does not have to walk up to the tee and take a swing at a ball, he does every bit as much work as the performer he is watching. Probably he doesn't have to fight his way through the crowd to get a look at play on the green. It's probably the finest spectator exercise in the world.

Several things strike you about a golf gallery. Probably in no other sport do you find so many experts. He's a very rare exception who admits ignorance on the fairway.

But you have to respect the reverential silence with which they await a shot. When a blade of grass rustles against another in the breeze, it draws a devastating look of scorn from your worshipper at the golfing shrine. When two spectators wish to converse they speak in whispers. The more timid, wishing to light his pipe, scratches the match on his rubber heel to avoid noise. The silence is appalling. It flows over you, drowning you. And, if you're not a golf enthusiast, it makes you want to shout that the air is free and you're perfectly entitled to use a little of it to let off the steam that creeps into your pent-up being. If you have that feeling, you smother it. The awesomeness of a big golf exhibition gets you. As you wander away from one green to join the crowd at the next, you find yourself talking in whispers too.

If you are of those who like to yell and let go when you watch sport, the experience is searing. It leaves you chastened, a man ashamed of his boisterous activities in other arenas where a certain amount of robust hooliganism is taken as part of the color of the game.

Those who know say yesterday's match was very fair for exhibition golf. The number of sensational shots was not particularly high. But, as men of experience point out, an exhibition does not promote the high degree of concentration, the extra care a tournament player exercises when the heat of competition is on.

To the uninitiate, those who do not even play week-ends, the way yesterday's champions played made the game seem so easy its intricacies were lost, although Ward's use of backspin was startling even to those who profess no knowledge of the art.

It's probably common knowledge, but to put it on the record Wednesday's match played between Bud Ward and Ken Black in Vancouver is believed to be the first time in history that United States and Canadian amateur titleholders have met in what might be termed a North American amateur championship. The crowd here and in Vancouver, despite the rain there, indicate the attraction is sufficient to warrant future encounters of a similar nature.

Winning three of the last four holes, Ken Black, Vancouver's Canadian amateur champion, and Phil Taylor, Victoria Golf Club pro, came from behind to beat Bud Ward, Spokane, U.S. amateur titleholder, and Ken Tucker, Everett, P.N.W. pro champion, one up in the international 18-hole charity fourball played yesterday afternoon at the Oak Bay links.

A gallery of approximately 1,000 followed the match and saw par beaten five times by the low ball.

The Canadians went one down on the first hole with Ward shooting a perfectly-played birdie four and the rest par fives.

Taylor missed a chance to square the match when he hooked a four-foot putt and shared the second with Tucker in par three. Black and Taylor found traps on their second shots and Tucker got on in two and two-putted for a par four to put the Americans two up on the third.

Ward rimmed the cup with his chip shot on the fourth and the quartette all finished in four. Tucker repeated on the fifth, Tucker recovering nicely from a trap.

Black brought off one of the pretty shots of the match on the sixth, coming out of the rough on his second to the green. The hole was shared in par fours when Ward's long putt stuck on the lip of the cup.

CLOSE TO PIN

Black and Taylor played their tee shots close to the pin on the seventh. Kenny sinking his putt for a birdie two, Taylor was conceded a two and Ward and Tucker took three, to leave the U.S. duo one up.

They halved the eighth in par threes and the ninth in one over par fours, the tricky green cheating Ward and Tucker of threes on short putts.

Tucker kept the Americans ahead with a par four to match Taylor's on the tenth. On the eleventh Ward skirted the right bunker to reach the green in two with Black. Taylor chipped nicely to the green on his third and sank his fourth, while Black and Ward short-putted and also took fours. Tucker ran into trouble in the sand trap and picked up.

Tucker again set the pace on the 12th, rolling his third to four feet from the pin for a birdie four, while his partner, after whipping a screaming drive and brassie to the green, failed on his putting. Taylor and Black took fives and the Americans were two up again.

Ward rimmed the cup again on his second on the 13th and the hole was split, with Black and Taylor in in threes and Tucker four.

Ward stood off Ken Black's lovely putting touch on the 14th as all but Taylor landed on the green from the tee. Kenny sent a 45-foot roller into the cup and Ward equalled it with a long curving putt from the north end. Both had birdie two.

Taylor cut down the U.S. team's lead, sinking a short putt from a lovely chip on the 15th for a birdie four. Black and Ward took fives and Tucker picked up.

The British Columbians squared the match on the 16th, Black dropping his chip shot three feet from the pin for a birdie three, while Ward and Tucker were recovering from the rough. Tucker's third rimmed the cup and Black sank his three-footer.

Ward boomed out a terrific drive on the 17th, found a trap on his second and missed his short putt after a sensational shot from the bunker.

Taylor, playing without as much length, chipped to the green on his third and holed out for a four to put the Canadians one up.

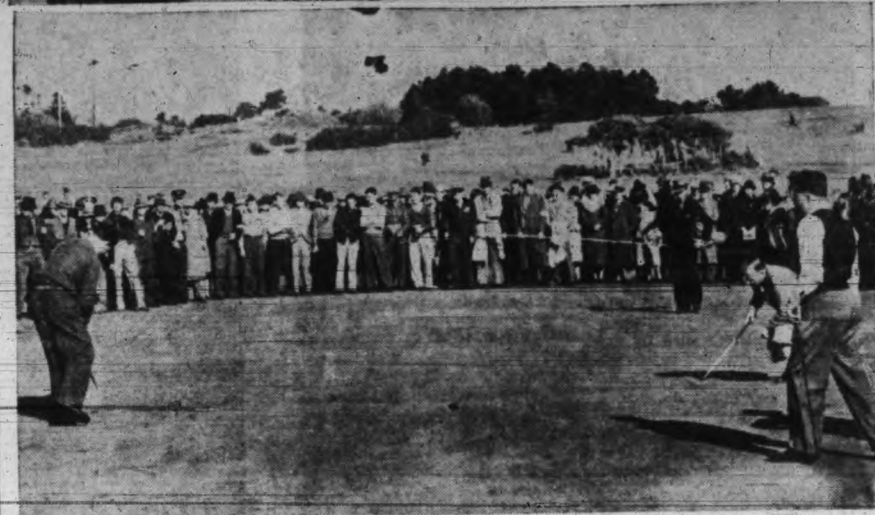

Ward sliced slightly to the right on his drive from the 18th and dropped his approach shot on the green. Taylor over-ran the green on his second and Black and Tucker dropped theirs near the edge. Tucker's putt ran around the rim, narrowly missing a three. Black rolled his to within six inches of the cup. Ward was slightly wide, as was Taylor, and the match ended with Black and Taylor one up with all being conceded par fours on the hole.

Armstrong, Fontaine Ready

SEATTLE (AP)—Hammering Henry Armstrong, the fightin'est champion in the business, puts his welterweight crown on the chopping block tonight against Richie Fontaine of Missoula, Mont.

They're scheduled for 15 rounds at the Civic Auditorium, which has a 9,000 seating capacity.

There was little or no wagering on the outcome, everybody figuring Henry a cinch to retain his title. About the only person with much faith in Fontaine's chances was Fontaine. Richie has gone 20 rounds against Armstrong, winning a 10-rounder and losing

Hockey

Boucher Gets Job

WINNIPEG (CP)—Appointment of Frank Boucher as assistant manager and coach of New York Rangers of the National Hockey League was announced by Manager Lester Patrick yesterday.

Boucher has been right-hand man to the Ranger chieftain since he retired from active play three years ago. Last year he handled the Rangers' amateur farm club, New York Rovers of the Eastern United States Amateur League, and the season before his coaching activities were divided between Rovers and Rangers.

He has had joint charge with Patrick of Rangers since their training camp opened here October 12.

With appointment of an assistant coach and manager for his National Hockey League club, Patrick hopes to devote more attention to the executive duties of his extensive hockey organization.

Boucher's return to the club puts him with Patrick and trainer Harry Westbury as the only survivors of the original New York Rangers, organized in 1926.

For 10 years the Ranger star pivoted between Bun and Bill Cook on one of the greatest forward lines in major league history.

NAMES ALL-STARS

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—As the National Hockey League's all-star manager, Art Ross of Boston Bruins last night selected the all-star team that will oppose Les Canadiens in a memorial game for Babe Siebert in Montreal, October 29. Siebert drowned at St. Joseph, Ont., last August.

Ross limited his selections to 14 players.

His squad included Eddie Shore of the Bruins, Eddie Goodfellow of Detroit Red Wings, Art Coulter of New York Rangers, and Earl Selbert of Chicago Black Hawks, as defencemen. Gordon Drillon and Syl Apps of Toronto, Tommy Anderson and Harvey Jackson of New York Americans, Dit Clapper and Bobby Bauer of the Bruins, Johnny Gottselig of Chicago, Neil Colville of Rangers, and Sid Howe of Detroit are forwards.

Frankie Brimsek of the Bruins will be goalie.

Dit Clapper, the Bruins' captain and defenceman, was included among the forwards to make room for Goodfellow on defence.

LYCETTE BUYS CLIPPERS

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Phil Lycette, president of Seattle Seahawks of the Pacific Coast Hockey League, said last night he had purchased all players and equipment of the Spokane Clippers from co-owners Roy Hotchkiss and Pat Gilkey.

"If anybody shows up willing to back a club in Spokane I'll turn the players back to him for just what I paid," Lycette added. The amount involved in the team's sale was not disclosed.

LANGELLE GETS BERTH

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (CP)—Manager Conny Smythe revised plans yesterday when he saw Pete Langelle work in place of Billy Taylor on one of Toronto Maple Leaf's forward lines.

Langelle, just recovered from a charley-horse, replaced Taylor at centre between Sweeney Schriner and Gus Marker as the Leafs continued training for the National Hockey League season. The Winnipeg boy was sensational.

"There's the answer to that forward line," Smythe said.

KWASNE COACHES TRAIL

TRAIL, B.C. (CP)—Jack Kwasne, who coached Trail Tigers to the British Columbia junior hockey championship last winter, yesterday was appointed coach of the World Champion Trail Smoke Eaters.

BARRY, YOUNG FREE AGENTS

Al Simmons

Hall of Fame Prospect

NEW YORK (AP)—Release of Al Simmons, announced by Cincinnati Reds yesterday, provides another strong candidate for baseball's Hall of Fame, for the Milwaukee Pole was a mighty man in his heyday with Connie Mack's last great club at Philadelphia.

Unfortunately for his chances of entering the Cooperstown portals soon, Al has hung on in the Big League a few years longer than he needed to, either for financial reasons or otherwise, and he was no galloping gazelle toward the last. But when the boys have forgotten that and start spading up Simmons' record over the fat years, they will find it increasingly difficult to leave him out of the up-state temple.

The lowest that Al hit in his eight big seasons with the Athletics was .308, and that was in his first year, 1924. Thereafter he compiled successive averages of .386, .343, .392, .351, .365, .381, .390 and .322. In 1934, when well past his prime, he still was able to bat .344 for Chicago White Sox. Twice the big outfielder led the American League in hitting; the twice he led the pack in total hits

Resume Revised British Football Games Tomorrow

Saturday Sports

Boxla, Soccer, Rugby Carded

Inter-city Canadian rugby, inter-city box lacrosse, league and friendly soccer matches are, the items on tomorrow's sports card.

The final workout of the Victoria Revellers was held last evening prior to the game against University of British Columbia Thunderbirds at the Athletic Park in the afternoon at 2.45 in a "Big Four" Canadian rugby league game.

Victoria West and Garrison soccer elevens will usher in the Victoria and District Football League's silverware race when they meet on the Heywood Avenue pitch. Friendly soccer will be played at Beacon Hill Park, with Victoria City opposing the local Pacific Coast League entry. Both games start at 2.45.

In the evening in the Willows Sport Centre, Powell River's British Columbia intermediate boxla champions will clash with Victoria All-Stars in the feature game of a double-bill. Midget teams will meet in the opener at 7.15.

Victoria City will field the following team for its match against the Coast League team: O'Connor, March, Leggett, Fieldhouse, Stofor, Mills, Holness, Wallace, Ross, Condon and Cockrell; reserves, McBride, Sands, McKay, Dickinson, Griffiths and Coles.

CRICKET CLUB ANNUAL MEETING

Officers of the Victoria Cricket Club were returned to their respective positions at the annual dinner meeting in Spencer's dining room last evening.

J. L. Dunlop was re-elected president, and other officers are: Judge P. S. Lampman, vice-president; A. F. Mitchell, secretary; W. I. Land, treasurer; R. A. Pennington, captain; Jack Sparks, vice-captain. Additional executive committee members were appointed as follows: W. J. Moffatt, E. Gillespie and Hubert Lethaby. The grounds committee was made up of R. A. Pennington, W. J. Moffatt and E. Gillespie.

It was decided to carry on the club's last year policy of playing only friendly matches, mainly with teams from Brentwood, Shawnigan Lake and University schools.

The financial report showed the club to be in good standing, due mainly to the proceeds from the annual dance, which was staged under the chairmanship of Mr. Gillespie.

Compliments were paid Mr. Pennington for the manner in which he handled the team as captain last year.

Judge Lampman was in the chair, and the three Saturday Cricket League teams were represented. J. W. Wenman and Reg Wenman represented the Incogs; W. J. Dymont and Tom Hoggarth, the Albions and Major R. F. Howden and Rev. F. Comley, the Five C's.

This letter is not meant as a criticism of anyone, but simply to point the picture as the league officials see it.

WALTER H. YEAMANS.

SCHOOL GALA ON TONIGHT

Young swimmers of Victoria, including several who have taken major laurels in senior competition, will meet tonight in the 15th annual V.A.S.C.-sponsored school gala at the Crystal Garden. The first event is scheduled for 8.

More than 200 entries have been received for the various races, with South Park, winners of the aggregate championship last year, running second to Central Junior High in the volume of competitors.

Keen competition is expected in virtually all classes.

HOOP LEAGUE TO START NEXT WEEK

While negotiations continued on playing courts, the Victoria and District Basketball League laid plans today for the opening of the season here next week.

A new proposal for use of the Victoria Sports Centre, advanced by the centre interests, was under study by league officials today but no definite decision had been reached on its acceptability.

Failing agreement on the terms, the league will start with games either at the Esquimalt Athletic Hall or at the Y.M.C.A. George Gordon, president of the league, stated today the league intended to carry through its work in accordance with the constitution. He indicated that any percentage granted to one team for exhibition games would be granted to all for such fixtures.

J. Bryant Heads Carpet Bowlers

J. Bryant was elected president of the Capital City and District Carpet Bowling League at its annual meeting in the Foresters' Hall last night. Other officers elected included vice-president, A. McMillan; secretary, W. B. Colvin; treasurer, W. F. Bridge; auditors, J. Townsend and W. Cull.

The final date for entries into the ladies' league was fixed for next Friday. The first matches in the men's league will be played next week, the draw being as follows: October 24, A.O.F. Sherwood vs. A.O.F. Rangers; October 25, Willows Ramblers vs. Willows Rangers; October 26, A.O.F. Friars vs. Willows Park; October 2, K. of P. vs. Esquimalt, A.O.F. Robin Hood vs. Esquimalt Rovers.

THISTLES WORKOUT

The Saanich Thistles will hold a workout at Central Park at 3 tomorrow afternoon. All last year's players and any new players are asked to attend.

TO REDUCE STABLE

LONDON (CP)—War economy hit the sport of kings yesterday. The Aga Khan, one of the turf's most lavish patrons, announced that he planned to reduce his stable, valued at nearly $2,000,000.

Seeks Right to Refuse Answers

An appeal arising out of the Supreme Court action in Vancouver testing the validity of the Lower Mainland Dairy Products Marketing Scheme, opened before the Court of Appeal this morning.

The appeal is being taken by W. E. Williams, K.C., chairman of the Lower Mainland Dairy Products Marketing Board, against a ruling of Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald that he (Williams) should answer certain questions which he refused to answer in examination on discovery.

Mr. Williams, with E. D. Barrow and Acton Kilby, other members of the board; the board itself and the Milk Clearing House Limited, the board agency, are defendants in the action brought by Turner Dairies et al, represented by Senator J. W. de B. Farris, K.C.

In the Supreme Court action the plaintiffs seek a ruling that certain board orders are ultra vires, an injunction restraining the board from taking steps to compel the plaintiffs to comply with these orders, an injunction restraining Milk Clearing House Limited as the designated agency pursuant to the orders, a declaration that the Milk Marketing Scheme of the lower mainland is ultra vires, and an injunction restraining the board from exercising any power purported to be invested in it by the scheme.

Pleading the appellant's case this morning, G. H. Locke, K.C., claimed the questions asked Mr. Williams were not relevant to the issues of the action, and therefore he did not have to answer them. The action was against Mr. Williams as an individual, he pointed out, and not as chairman of the board which would make him an official of the Crown and not subject to action. The questions concerned the policy of the board and the purpose and intention of its orders.

The appeal is continuing. John Farris appears with his father for the respondents.

Machine Takes Over
LUCKNOW, Ont. — Machinery has now invaded the field of flax-pulling. W. B. Anderson used a machine to harvest 1,500 acres of flax here. The machine has a capacity of 10 acres a day.

Music Certificates Will Be Presented

The annual presentations of the Associated Board of the Royal Schools of Music, London—the Royal Academy of Music and the Royal College of Music—will be held this evening at 8.15 in the Empress Hotel ballroom.

Taking part will be Joyce Hemsley, Stanley E. Cains, Lilian Jacklin, Sheila A. Whitmore, Marguerite Hancock, Ruby Joe, Marie Vowles, Dorothy Craig, Phyllis Muriel Hick, William Bernard M. Hick, Robin Wood, Esther F. Whittaker, L.R.S.M., and Maryan Peterson, L.R.S.M.

Mrs. J. Hebdon Gillespie will present the certificates and give a brief talk.

Ask Time Limit for Alien Registration

A resolution urging a time limit be set for enemy aliens to register with the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, was unanimously passed at a Canadian Legion meeting held last night in the Britannia Branch.

Registration of enemy aliens was progressing slowly, said W. G. Stone, treasurer of the provincial command. No more than 10 per cent had registered in British Columbia, and the R.C.M.P. lacked authority to compel them to report, he said. The meeting, on Tuesday, endorsed a resolution setting a time limit and asking for police authority. It will be presented to the proper authorities.

Mr. Barnard told the meeting earlier, in the evening that three Germans, who had appreciated the liberties they were enjoying in Canada, appeared before the legion executive's meeting in Ottawa in September, stating they had received letters advising them to join the German Bund. They had refused and since had not heard from their relatives in the Reich. Many other German residents of Canada had joined to protect their loved ones still in the Fatherland, he said.

The three Germans had asked the legion not to be too hard on Canadian Germans generally. Mr. Barnard said the three Germans, loyal to Canada, said they intended to conduct a speaking tour. When their mission had been sanctioned by the mounted police, the legion had promised full cooperation in spreading the news of their Canadian tour.

Victorians Lost All on Athenia

"I now have to start teaching from the bottom again, for I lost all my costumes and my valuable music, most of my clothes and my money when the Athenia went down," said Miss Grace Attfield, well-known Victoria teacher of dancing, who returned home yesterday with her mother, Mrs. H. T. Attfield and her younger sister, Lona Marie.

The three were on the Athenia and were returned by a rescue ship to Glasgow, where they were re-establishing themselves in their home on Orchard Avenue, Oak Bay.

"Oh, I'll be able to teach again," Grace said. "I'm going to start in a few weeks, as soon as the sprain in my back disappears. But it makes me ill when I think of my costumes and my music, which I can't replace. However, we're very thankful to be alive and back in Victoria."

"People in Canada don't know what war is—they have no conception of it—it is most depressing—it's absolutely heaven in Victoria."

"I'm sick and tired of lifeboats and gas masks—I hope I'll never see them again," Mrs. Attfield and her daughters had only time to grab their lifebelts when the torpedo struck the Athenia. They left their clothes, money and other personal belongings in their cabin.

The Attfields returned to Canada by Ss. Duchess of Richmond, which was blacked out each night. The passengers had to carry their lifebelts with them; many were so nervous they did not remove their clothing at nights. The passengers were told they were being conveyed, but the accompanying destroyers could not be seen, Miss Attfield said.

"Had we seen the convoy ships at any time during the trip I think we would have felt more secure," she said. "As it was we were continually in a state of uncertainty. It was no pleasure trip, and most of us wept for joy when we saw the shores of Canada."

TOWN TOPICS

At an executive meeting of the provincial branch of the United Empire Loyalist Association held on Wednesday evening at the home of Col. T. B. Monk, Moss Street, plans were made for the holding of the annual dinner in November, the date to be announced later.

A man charged with operating a restaurant without a city license pleaded guilty in the City Police Court this morning and was remanded a week to permit him to make certain alterations to his premises to enable him to secure the license. It had been refused by civic authorities for failure of the applicant to comply with sanitary regulations.

A benefit dance for the Victoria Cyclodrome was held last night under auspices of the Royal Oak Women's Institute at the Community Hall with 160 dancers attending. Special guests were George Robinson, secretary of the Victoria Cycle Association, and Mrs. Robinson, and Cyril Jones, vice-president of the association. Mr. Jones presented the City Hall Employees' Association Cup to Eric Whitehead, for most points in open races. Refreshments were served by the institute. Len Acres' orchestra played.

Five persons charged with keeping more than two cows on a city lot in contravention of a civic ordinance were remanded for a week when they appeared on remand in the City Police Court this morning. A. J. Patton, defence counsel, contended the cases should not proceed as there was a higher court action pending which arose out of previous convictions for similar offences. Magistrate Hall ruled the objection out on the grounds these were new offences.

The Margaret Jenkins Parent-Teacher Association met in the school auditorium on Tuesday evening. An increase in attendance was noted and the membership convener, Mrs. Rowe, reported that the membership of the association had more than trebled that of last year. F. Baylis, the delegate appointed to confer with other delegates in plans for Halloween bonfires, reported that Margaret Jenkins and Sir James Douglas Schools would unite and an invitation was extended to pupils from Bank Street School to the celebration. A moving picture show was planned for Friday evening, October 24, in the school auditorium, when the new projector which the association purchased for the use of the school will be used.

Mrs. Gray reported on some additional books available in the study group library. It was decided to purchase 12 card tables and six dozen cups and saucers. Final plans were made for the bazaar on Friday, November 17. Dr. Murray Anderson gave an interesting talk on "The Growth and Development of the Child" and Miss Cecile King contributed piano selections. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Unwin and her committee.

Permits were issued at the city building inspector's office in the City Hall this morning for a $470 sunroom at the home of A. Johnson, 2015 Runnymede Avenue, and for $400 alterations to the house at 90 Dallas Road, owned by R. Taft, 1228 Montrose, turning the second floor into a suite, with its own entrance.

The Columbia Coast Mission has thanked the city for its gifts of royal visit rugs to St. Michael's Hospital, Rock Bay, and St. George's Hospital, Alert Bay. The thanks of the Fairbridge Prince of Wales School near Duncan for a royal rug was also received at the City Hall today.

Services of the city rat catcher were much appreciated by a resident of Rockland Avenue, who told the city council by letter today his home and garden were overrun with rats until the official catcher attended and set out bait.

Maybe You Can Read Bills Now

Legislation in the British Columbia House will be easier to follow at the coming session as the result of an innovation by Premier Pattullo.

The Premier has arranged for a new system of printing bills for the House. Each line will be numbered and double-spaced. Each section will be marked to show whether it is new or simply a change.

The simplified method will make it much less complicated for members speaking to a bill to describe the part they refer to, and will also assist them in understanding the bills as presented.

FINLAND SENDS REPLY TO SOVIET

By LYNN HEINZERLING
HELSINKI (AP) — Former Premier Dr. Juho Kusti Paasikivi will leave for Moscow late tomorrow night with Finland's counter-proposals to the Soviet government.

These were expected in diplomatic circles to reflect the decisions reached at this week's Stockholm conference of neutral Nordic countries—to avoid entangling alliances and protect their neutrality and independence.

A government spokesman said another delegate may be added to Paasikivi's party "to give it more authority." This was viewed as significant in some circles, but the once-interrupted conversations with Moscow were not expected to be concluded at the new conference.

The cabinet went into session within an hour after Foreign Minister Eilas Erko had arrived from Stockholm, where he attended the neutral Nordic countries' conference.

Even as the cabinet met, the Finns continued to push their military preparations.

Says 'Y' Work More Important

It was a patriotic duty to keep life in the Dominion as normal as possible with the country at war, R. E. G. Davis, Toronto, Y.M.C.A. National Council secretary, told members of the local "Y" board of directors at luncheon in the association dining hall today.

Thus the regular work of the Y.M.C.A. was increased in importance, he said.

Certain features of the association program were more outstanding in importance than others at the present time. The social education part of the work helped young fellows to do sober thinking with regard to the issues facing them.

Mr. Davis said the Y.M.C.A. was working out a national plan with the Canadian association for adult education. Pamphlets dealing in brief with this subject would be distributed throughout the country.

The direct military service of the Y.M.C.A. was included in Mr. Davis' address. He said the "Y" was launching a more vigorous program of military service, locally and nationally. He hoped that the local association would stand behind the work.

The Victoria Red Triangle Committee of the Y.M.C.A., under the chairmanship of W. T. Straith, M.P.P., presented a report on the work that the group was doing for army and navy men stationed in and around the city.

Committee reports of the "Y" will be presented at a meeting of the directors in the near future.

ASKS IF ELECTRIC SERVICE IS SAFE

Alderman B. J. Gadsen is not satisfied the citizens of Victoria and district are receiving the maximum of protection in the matter of electric service since the external grounding of current on the poles has been discontinued, he said in a letter to the mayor and council, filed this morning in the city clerk's office.

He is therefore asking the council, at its next meeting, a set of 17 questions, among them being, "Is the city electrician satisfied the electrical distribution methods in use in Victoria are entirely safe?"

The Associated Boards of Trade of the Fraser Valley and the lower mainland, in convention last June, passed a resolution asking the provincial government release land owners from payment of education taxes.

This morning the association asked the City Council of Victoria to pass a resolution along the following lines "That this body is in agreement with the principle that the burden of the costs of education should be removed from the landowner."

It was said the matter was urgent, as the Provincial Legislature will meet at the end of the month.

Permits were issued at the city building inspector's office in the City Hall this morning for a $470 sunroom at the home of A. Johnson, 2015 Runnymede Avenue, and for $400 alterations to the house at 90 Dallas Road, owned by R. Taft, 1228 Montrose, turning the second floor into a suite, with its own entrance.

The Columbia Coast Mission has thanked the city for its gifts of royal visit rugs to St. Michael's Hospital, Rock Bay, and St. George's Hospital, Alert Bay. The thanks of the Fairbridge Prince of Wales School near Duncan for a royal rug was also received at the City Hall today.

Services of the city rat catcher were much appreciated by a resident of Rockland Avenue, who told the city council by letter today his home and garden were overrun with rats until the official catcher attended and set out bait.

Victoria Students Receive Degrees

Ten former Victoria College students will receive degrees and diplomas at the annual autumn congregation at the University of British Columbia next Wednesday.

Eight of the students are Victorians, while the other two are residents of Duncan and Nanaimo. Three Victorians will receive their degree of Bachelor of Arts with honors. They are Genette Cave, Brown, Cave, first-class honors in chemistry; Mary M. Davis, first-class honors in philosophy and psychology, and George Pirks Kidd, second-class honors in history.

Thomas A. G. Beeching will receive his degree of Bachelor of Applied Science for electrical engineering.

James Bertram Saunders will be the only graduate receiving the degree of Bachelor of Science in agriculture.

The degree of Master of Arts will be received by Agnes Margaret Gwyn, B.A., of Duncan, thesis, "The Development and Relative Growth of the Scales of the Pacific Herring."

Four social service diplomas will be awarded to past Victoria College students. They are Margaret T. Gourlay, B.A.; Beatrice Ball and Nora Scott-Colquhoun, B.A., of Victoria, and C. Stewart Clarke, B.A., of Nanaimo.

The conferring of two honorary LL.D. degrees, one upon Lieutenant-Governor Eric W. Hamber and the other upon Professor Emeritus Paul A. Boving, prominent in provincial and Dominion academic circles for over 25 years, will make the congregation an extraordinary event in the history of the university.

The Lieutenant-Governor, official visitor to the university and holder of a Bachelor of Arts degree, will make the congressional address following the conferring of the degrees by Chancellor R. E. McKechnie.

WOODSMEN GETTING CHRISTMAS TREES

A small army of woodsmen will start into British Columbia's fir forests the latter part of this month to begin the annual job of cutting Christmas trees, and for the first time the Christmas-tree business will assume the status of a fully-fledged industry under government regulation.

Steadily growing in recent years, with a substantial export market, the trade is expected to set new records this fall. Last year, besides its own needs, the province cut 1,500,000 trees for export, mostly to the United States.

What used to be a small seasonal sideline for a few energetic youngsters has developed into a recognized part of the forest production.

Minimum wage regulations will govern the workers in the business, the scale being 40 cents an hour for at least 85 per cent of those employed and 30 cents for the other 15 per cent.

PAY ROYALTIES

Operators, for the first time, will have to pay royalties for trees cut on crown lands or pre-emptions since March, 1914. The royalty scale runs from 1/4 cent for trees up to four feet high and 25 cents for trees of 25 feet and over. Trees from lands acquired since April, 1887, or crown granted before March, 1914, must pay at the rate of 25 cents a cord.

Cutting is banned on crown lands in the coast forests, but private owners of forests can lease their holdings.

The forest branch, in announcing the royalty rates today, said that the Christmas-tree business has a definite place in British Columbia's forest economy, providing care is taken to prevent waste and to insure continued growth of the crop.

Suggestions for avoiding waste were made by forestry officials, such as not cutting the tops from large trees which would eventually be good for lumber, not cutting from sparsely-covered areas where trees are needed to perpetuate the forest growth, and not cutting poor trees that will be rejected by the Christmas-tree inspectors.

"The discouragement of this wasteful cutting is a distinct necessity for the perpetuation of the Christmas-tree industry," said a spokesman.

Foresters see the Christmas trees as an excellent off-season crop for farmers. If handled properly it could yield an annual crop similar to the wheat and apple crops.

SEE COMMUNIST DRIVE ON MINES

Labor troubles fostered by the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers were called a Communist drive against the B.C. mining industry by a delegation of the B.C. Mining Association which met the provincial cabinet this morning.

H. Mortimer Lamb, secretary, said the constitution of the union, a C.I.O. affiliate, left no doubt of its Communist aims.

Mr. Lamb said the delegation had fully supported the government's decision to prosecute officers of the union that provoked the strike which has closed the Pioneer Mine in Bridge River.

Few details of the representations made on this point were disclosed, but Mr. Lamb said the strike was obviously started deliberately in violation of the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act.

No comment was offered by the government.

The delegation included: R. W. Bruhn, D. S. Taft, A. E. Bull, Col. W. H. Laws, F. W. Guernsey, A. E. Baillie and Mr. Lamb. Suggested changes in silicosis regulations were also discussed by the delegation.

U.S. Senator Scores Lindbergh Speech

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator P. M. Brown, Democrat, Michigan, today accused Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh of having engaged "the spirit of nationalistic imperialism that has cursed the world for centuries and which is the potent poison that has killed peace."

In expressing support of the neutrality bill in the Senate, Brown brought up for discussion the recent radio address in which Lindbergh said that "sooner or later we must demand the freedom of this continent and its surrounding islands from the dictates of European power."

"I challenge the statement of Colonel Lindbergh," Senator Brown said. "He speaks with no authority whatsoever but his own. He does not represent the views of any considerable part of the American people."

Louis to Run Riding School

NEW YORK (AP)—When Joe Louis has made the final defence of his heavyweight title—probably next summer—and retired, probably as the only undefeated negro champion in ring history, he will settle down as proprietor of his own swank riding club and eating establishment near Detroit.

It's all mapped out for Joe by his co-managers, Julian Black and John Roxborough, just as they have arranged every other item of his existence since he came into the orbit of these two remarkably determined men.

For the last six months, Roxborough and Black have been giving more thought to the champion's future than to making his matches and supervising his training. They are certain he can retire undefeated next year, but they are interested in seeing that Joe remains a credit to the negro race after he has hung up the gloves.

"If Joe thinks he's going to retire to a life of leisure and just plain pleasuring himself he's badly mistaken," says one insider. "He'll work and behave himself and not get fat if Julian and John have to break his back for him."

EXHIBITION BOUTS—CHICAGO (AP)—John Roxborough, co-manager of Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis, said yesterday the champion would appear in exhibition bouts October 27 at Flint, Mich., and October 30 at Richmond, Ind.

Other exhibition matches in several western cities, Roxborough said, have been tentatively canceled until he can confer with Mike Jacobs, New York promoter, who has Louis under contract for title matches.

DELANEY BEATEN

OAKLAND (AP)—Harold Blackshear, Monterey, Cal., negro heavyweight, scored a six-round technical knockout victory over Al Delaney, Windsor, Ont., in a scheduled 10-round main event here last night. Blackshear scaled 190; Delaney, 183.

Blackshear knocked Delaney down three times before Referee Billy Burke stopped the fight.

The victory avenged a 10-round decision Delaney won over Blackshear in San Francisco.

Rates Dempsey Hardest Hitter

NEW YORK (AP)—Figuring the best way to find out how hard a couple of mules kick is not to ask the mules but to ask the barn door, Freddy Corcoran went right to the bank-door to find out who hits the hardest—Joe Louis or Jack Dempsey.

Freddy Corcoran's business is arranging professional golf tournaments, but he has an avid interest in all sports. He is well acquainted with Jack Sharkey, the man who met both Dempsey and Louis.

"Tell me," he asked the ex-gob, "who hit you the hardest—Dempsey or Louis?"

Sharkey gave the question serious thought, then said slowly: "Well, I was at a peak when I met Dempsey and on my way down when I fought Louis."

"When Dempsey hit me, it was just like someone had dumped a load of concrete over my head. I've felt that punch for 13 years. I never thought a man could hit so hard."

DEMPSEY NEEDS ONE—When Dempsey hits you one good one, that's enough and the show is over. Louis hit me about 13 times, put me down several times. I don't think Louis has the paralyzing punch Dempsey had."

However, Sharkey hastened to assure Corcoran that Louis is a really great fighter who can hit remarkably fast.

"What would happen if they met, each at his peak?" Corcoran probed.

Again Sharkey went into a brief trance before replying.

"Well," he ventured, "Louis can be hit. So could Dempsey, but if Dempsey hit you once it would be curtains. Put 'em both in a telephone booth and see which one would come out. Dempsey would beat any man he could hit."

Anyway, Sharkey gives due credit to two great punchers, and leaves the impression he'd rather have Louis hit him four or five times than let Dempsey do it once.

Sharkey now is a sedate tavern-keeper in Boston, a family man with a fine home and money in the bank.

Dominion Features Submarine Picture

The Dominion Theatre is now showing Columbia's "U-boat 29." With Conrad Veidt, Valerie Hobson and Sebastian Shaw in the featured roles, and said to be based upon actual incidents in the last World War, "U-boat 29" bears an amazing resemblance at times to recent events abroad.

Particularly is this true in the case of the climax of the new film, in which a passenger vessel, laden with women and children, is torpedoed by an undersea craft.

For the most part, however, "U-boat 29" confines itself to the bitter struggle between an enemy agent and the counter-espionage network.

New Child Star to Appear at Capitol

Virginia Weidler, new find in Hollywood for juvenile roles, is cast as the pretty young star in Universal's "The Under-Pup," which will open tomorrow at the Capitol Theatre.

The new child star played her first role in "Moby Dick" when she was two years of age. When she was six she was cast in "After Tonight." She has also played in "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch."

Cast with her in the new picture are Robert Cummings, Nan Grey and Gloria Jean.

Rose Bampton Has Remarkable Posture

Rose Bampton, who is the tall, statuesque beauty of the Metropolitan Opera Company, did not come by her graceful and poised manner without some effort on her part. Miss Bampton realized that posture and graceful carriage were vital to the art of grand opera singing as a cultivated voice. This is how she came to enroll in the dancing class of Martha Graham, famous exponent of rhythmic dynamics, under whom she acquired a perfect discipline of the body and the technique of moulding movements into significant patterns.

The lovely star will make a welcome return appearance in Victoria on October 23, when she will be co-starred with the remarkable Ossy Renardy, young violin wizard, at the Royal Victoria Theatre, by Hilker Attractions.

'Ecstasy' Will Open At Plaza on Monday

The much-discussed and sensational motion picture, "Ecstasy," will have its premier showing at the Plaza Theatre Monday.

This motion picture has won an international prize and is considered one of the finest ever produced in Europe.

ATLAS THEATRE—Accuracy of English public school scenes as now shown in "Goodbye, Mr. Chips," at the Atlas Theatre with Robert Donat in the starring role, was insured through the co-operation of H. G. Michael Clarke, headmaster of Repton School, famed English institution of learning, where many school shots of the picture were made.

COLUMBIA THEATRE—One of the tragedies of the old west—the feuds between sheep raisers and cattlemen—is brought to dramatic life in Columbia's "Texas Stampede," Charles Starrett's latest starring vehicle, at the Columbia Theatre. Starrett appears as a young sheriff required to keep law and order in a county during one such feud.

SCHEDULE RACE MEETS—LONDON (CP Cable)—It was officially announced yesterday that a National Hunt Steeplechase race meeting will be held at Leicester November 22 and 23.

Meetings will also be held at Windsor, Cheltenham, Haydock Park, Newbury, Wetherby, Gatwick and Plumpton, the announcement said.

WINNIPEG (CP)—Lorne (Baldy) Northcott, former National Hockey League forward, said Wednesday he will coach Winnipeg Falcon-Rangers of the Manitoba Junior League this winter.

Changes in C.N.R. Western Personnel

MONTREAL — A number of important staff changes and promotions affecting officers in the western region of the Canadian National Railways were announced here today by S. J. Hungerford, chairman and president of the national system.

H. A. Dixon, now chief engineer of the western region, has been appointed chief engineer of operation for the system, succeeding C. B. Brown, who is retiring on pension. This appointment will become effective January 1. Mr. Dixon's headquarters will be in Montreal.

The following western region changes are in effect from today consequent upon the death of A. E. Warren.

W. R. Devenish, formerly general superintendent of transportation becomes general manager of the region.

W. C. Owens, formerly general superintendent of the Alberta district, succeeds Mr. Devenish as general superintendent of transportation with office at Winnipeg.

J. H. McKinnon formerly superintendent of the Calgary division, becomes general superintendent of the Alberta district, succeeding Mr. Owens. Mr. McKinnon's headquarters will be at Edmonton.

Sherman Smith, formerly assistant superintendent of the Dominion division, succeeds Mr. McKinnon as superintendent of the Calgary division.

Many Attend Warren Funeral Service

WINNIPEG (CP) — Funeral services were held here yesterday for A. E. Warren, vice-president of Canadian National Railways in charge of western lines, who died in hospital here Monday following a major operation. He was 65.

Last rites for the man who rose from station agent at Portage la Prairie, Man., to one of the highest posts in the company, were held in St. George's Anglican Church. Rt. Rev. Henry D. Martin, Bishop of Saskatchewan officiated. Interment was made at St. John's Cemetery.

S. J. Hungerford, chairman and president of the C.N.R., was represented by A. J. Hills while the board of directors was represented by B. L. Daly of Montreal and R. J. Moffatt, Bradwell, Sask.

Among those at the funeral were N. B. Walton, operative vice-president, Montreal; W. C. Owens, general superintendent, Alberta district, and W. I. Munroe, general superintendent, Saskatchewan district.

London Market

LONDON (AP) — Stock market trades were encouraged by signing of the Allied-Turkish pact, and while the usual week-end hesitancy was apparent, the undercurrent was firm.

More interest was shown in issues neglected in the recent advance. Domestic rails were in brisk demand. Buying of foreign bonds increased. Oils weakened. Industrial stock to a straight course. The gilt-edged market moved quietly. Closing in sterling: Distillers 99.40, Imperial Chemical 256.60, Mexican Eagle 10.40.

Bond: British 2½% Consols 188½, British Funding 4 190-90 121½.

Around the Docks:

NO MESSAGE YET FROM TAI PING

As the seventh day passed since she left Quatsino, fears were felt for the safety of the little Chinese junk Tai Ping, somewhere off the west coast of Vancouver Island.

A severe gale swept the ocean off the coast during the week, and it was felt by mariners that the junk may have been swept far to sea.

She had little food aboard and was not prepared for another long trip. Crossing from the Orient she was more than 100 days at sea.

Capt. John Anderson, when he left Quatsino last week, said he thought it would take five to seven days to reach Cape Flattery. Ships arriving here from sea have seen nothing of the Tai Ping.

DIED AT SEA

PORT ALBERT — Funeral services were held here yesterday for Hans A. J. Gulbraar, 32, chief officer of the Norwegian freighter Wyvern, who died at sea from a heart attack October 12.

The body was later removed to Vancouver for cremation and the ashes will be sent to his home in Norway.

Mr. Gulbraar was one of the ship's most popular officers and his death cast a pall of gloom over the entire vessel. When she entered port the Wyvern flew her flag at half mast in his memory.

Bombed Victorian Home on Furlough

"Now that I'm in Victoria I'll recover pretty quickly—believe me, bombing of a ship isn't pleasant when you're on the ship," said Harry G. Denyer, who was chief officer of the Yangtze River vessel Hsinchang, bombed last August at Ichang by Japanese planes. Mr. Denyer returned yesterday to the city on nine months' furlough, and is staying with his mother, Mrs. A. K. Denyer, Vincent Avenue.

"They swooped down on us twice and two of my Chinese crew were killed," Mr. Denyer said. "The top was burned off the ship—those river boats are pretty lightly constructed."

"Every once in a while a Japanese flier goes crazy when he gets in charge of a plane up in the air and he lets go at anything in sight. That's what happened to us."

BRITISH PROTEST

The British government lodged a strong protest with the Japanese admiral in charge of naval operations along the Yangtze. He said there were no planes over Ichang that day and turned the protest over to the Japanese army commander, who said he had no information, but if the attack had taken place it was a regrettable mistake.

"There's not a hope in the world the Japanese will win that war," Mr. Denyer said. "They're being driven back all the time. They want, above all, the Yangtze Valley—it's the best part of China."

When the Hsinchang was bombed she was tied up at Ichang, about 850 miles up the Yangtze from Shanghai. Alongside her was the Klawo, which was also bombed.

"They came down and had a good look at us and then started to bomb," Mr. Denyer said. Britishers who saw the attack from the gunboat Gannet, said the Japanese went for only the British ships, ignoring any other objective. There were 12 planes in the attack.

Mr. Denyer was formerly on Ss. Empress of Canada, and has been in China three years, plying up and down the Yangtze, between Hankow and Chungking. He was given furlough before his regular time in order that he might recover more quickly in Victoria from the shock of his harrowing ordeal.

He was injured by bomb fragments, and spent some time in hospital before resuming his duties.

Bonds

NEW YORK (CP) — U.S. government bonds tended higher, with declines of as much as 8-32 point more than offset by an advance of 14-32 point.

Italian, Australian and neutral European issues had gains of 2 and 3.

Canada Warships Guard Her Ports

By FRANK FLAHERTY

OTTAWA (CP) — Night and day, in mist, fog, rain and snow the watchdogs of the Royal Canadian Navy guard the approaches to Canadian ports. No vessel may enter without the navy's permission and without flying the special flag which indicates it has passed naval inspection. No vessel may leave without permission.

All Canadian ocean ports display three red lights, one above the other at night and three red balls in the same position during the day, notice to all approaching ships that the port is closed except to vessels passing inspection.

The warning red sign also tells approaching ships they must proceed with caution and obey orders and signals. They are expected to report to the inspection vessel which rides at a designated spot outside the harbor. If they fail to do so a warning shot may remind them of the existence of a state of war.

The inspection is carried out by a naval officer who boards the ship from the inspecting vessel. Extent of the inspection depends on the ship. Ships moving regularly in and out of the port may be quickly passed.

Ocean liners, arriving only occasionally but well known in shipping circles may be given closer inspection while strange ships arriving for the first time are checked with care.

WATCH FOR SUBMARINES

One possibility the inspection service has to guard against is that a submarine should slip into port under the belly of a merchant ship. Once inside a port a submarine might wreak much damage.

The inspection service seeks to interfere as little as possible with merchant vessels, whether of neutral or Allied nations, because delay of a big ship is costly.

The service, however, is for the benefit of ship-owners as well as the protection of ports. At times there may be half a dozen ships in a Canadian port. Should one dangerous vessel slip past the inspection service it might destroy all the ships tied up as well as damage the port.

Inspection consists of an examination of the ship's papers, questioning officers and crew, perhaps in examination of the cargo and a search of the vessel.

The inspection vessel may call upon the coastal batteries to fire on a ship which refuses to obey orders or acts in a suspicious manner.

Usually the coast defence battery is the real power behind the orders of the inspection vessel. For the most part these craft are unarmed as the armed ships of the Canadian Navy are required for more dangerous spots.

The inspection vessels are relieved from time to time to permit them to dock for repairs, fuel, supplies of food and to give the crews a rest.

All the principal ports on the Atlantic and Pacific are guarded. The inspection for St. Lawrence River ports takes place just below Quebec, opposite the Isle of Orleans.

Generally the procedure of inspection is the same at all ports, but local conditions give rise to special orders and special traffic regulations relating to the entrance and exit of ships from each port. These are published from time to time, and strange ships arriving without notice of local rules are advised of them by the examining officer.

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP) — Excellent overseas purchases of Canadian wheat failed to stimulate buying power on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today and wheat futures prices drifted to lower levels. Closing quotations were ¼ to ½ cent down, October at 70½¢, November 71¼¢, December 72¼¢ and May 76½¢.

Exporters made minor purchases early in the session but this support dried up as operations progressed. Light offerings which came out in the initial export buying also disappeared but a weak display at Chicago discouraged rallying interest.

Export sales were estimated at almost 4,000,000 bushels and were featured by United Kingdom purchases of 12 full cargoes of top northern grades.

At Buenos Aires wheat prices were ¼ cent off at noon.

Mills took fair quantities of the Nos. 2, 3 and 4 northern, No. 4 special and No. 1 garnet in the cash wheat market. Oats and barley were given moderate export support in the coarse grain pit.

Country marketings reached 2,330,000 bushels yesterday against 2,217,000 delivered by prairie farmers on the same day a year ago.

Weather Men Hear Balloon Radio Signals

In the world of aviation, balloons do not amount to a great deal nowadays. Airplanes have taken their place. The airplane goes faster, and is more sure of reaching its goal.

If we class the Zeppelin as a balloon, there are some persons who have things to say in its favor. It does not travel so fast as an airplane, but it can be guided through winds. Zeppelins

Mounted Frenchman rising in balloon a century ago.

(called "dirigibles" or "airships") have crossed the Atlantic Ocean safely many times, but the fearful explosion of one of them at the end of such a trip ended the regular service.

By the use of helium gas, Zeppelins can be made safe from explosion of the gas bag. It may be that this form of balloon will come back into use, some day, but we cannot say for sure.

The old-fashioned balloon, with a ball-shaped bag, is almost a thing of the past, so far as use for travel goes. Yet we must give it honor. It was the only means of air travel for more than a century before airplanes were made to fly.

Balloons are of some use in warfare. They can be sent up to "observe" the enemy, but they do not now seem so good for this purpose as the airplane. Another use of balloons is to guard cities. Before Great Britain entered the war against Germany, a balloon protection for the city of London had been worked out. Captive balloons were prepared to take up long strips of metal which would hang down and block the way of airplanes. The same plan was followed to protect Paris and Berlin.

Small balloons have proved of great help to weather experts who wanted to learn facts about the winds and the temperature high above the ground. Airplanes can be used for this purpose, but they cannot go as high as balloons.

A modern type of weather-testing balloon has a bag four feet wide. It carries thermometers and other instruments to heights of 11 miles or more. Rising higher and higher, this balloon gives out automatic radio signals, and men below listen to them. In that way they learn the height of the balloon, the temperature, and facts about the winds. The rubber bag of the balloon swells as it rises into thinner and thinner air. At length it breaks. Then the instruments, fastened to a parachute, fall to the ground.

HOROSCOPE

Saturday, October 21

Adverse planetary aspects dominate today. It is a time to complete whatever has been started in business or social matters. Rest and recreation will be safest for those who know how to make the best use of their time and opportunities. It is better to delay activities until the stars smile.

Women are under portents pre-aging obstacles and postponements. It is wise to avoid putting to the test any ambition that requires approval or support. Romance is distinctly ill-omened under this configuration. Girls may find dates for this evening disappointing.

The new moon of this month promises prosperity to theatres and amusement enterprises. Heavy speculation on the stock exchanges will be sadly disappointing in pitiable results. Reckless plunging will be noted in coming weeks, but warning is given that more fortunes will be lost than gained.

Revelations of secret information will bring about better understanding of government aims. Great expenditures will speed coast defenses. Promotions in the army and navy will be announced suddenly. Aviators are to gain attention and to make splendid records in war manoeuvres. Despite all isolation theories the stars indicate deeper American entanglement in foreign conflicts. Warning is given that the American mind is not fitted to cope with the subtle and far-seeing diplomacy of European statesmen.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—My whole trouble centres around my being very conceited. Please tell me how to overcome it. PEGGY.

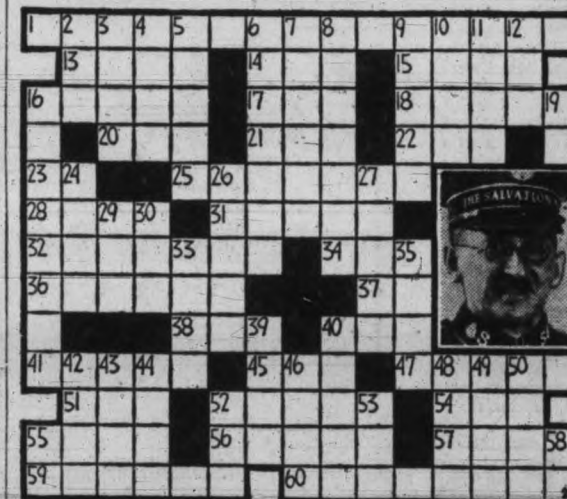

Answer: About the most drastic remedy I know for conceit is to go away to college. If that won't cure your case is hopeless. For in college you will find girls better looking than you are and cleverer, and you will have a chance to see how you really rate as to beauty and intelligence. Also you will find yourself up against a devastating frankness that will strip your vanity from you. There will be no clique giving you the glad hand and telling you how wonderful and gifted you are.

One of the major advantages of going to school is that it reduces swelled heads to normal proportions and gives many a pampered boy and girl the first idea of how they look to other people instead of to their adoring and admiring parents. You are quite right in wishing to cure yourself of conceit. For if egotism is not a major vice it is certainly the most unpopular one. Most of us find it easier to condone any other fault in people than for them to be self-centred and puffed up with a sense of their own importance.

And if this is true of men, it is doubly true of women, whose chief virtue should be mental as well as physical modesty. Nothing disillusion us so much as for one to be a braggart. It takes the bloom even off of beauty itself for its fortunate possessor to be vain of it. It disgusts us to hear a girl boast of her conquests and tell how many millionaires are dying to marry her. And we shed tears of boredom when little Miss Highbrow tries to show off how intellectual she is.

DOROTHY DIX.

Hepburn Expected to Aid St. Lawrence Scheme

WASHINGTON (CP)—Reports circulating in Washington that the long-discussed St. Lawrence deep waterways and power project may soon become a live issue between the governments of Canada and the United States were given added weight today when it was reported Premier Hepburn of Ontario had abandoned his opposition to the scheme.

The Financial Post in Toronto published a copyright dispatch from Ottawa stating Mr. Hepburn had told Prime Minister MacKenzie King, while discussing Canada's war effort, that he was now prepared to co-operate in the sea-way project.

Inquiries at the State Department and at the Canadian legation failed to bring any comment. It was reported there that Leland Olis, an expert on the St. Lawrence project, had been appointed to the interior department's power commission and might also be added to the International Boundary Commission.

Rumors that President Roosevelt was getting ready for quick action on this subject brought speculation over the visit to the President last Tuesday by Hon. Loring Christie, Canadian minister to the United States.

Accompanied by Sumner Welles, under-secretary of state, Mr. Christie had a 15-minute talk with the President, but neither official would discuss the purpose of the call. Mr. Christie is familiar with the St. Lawrence project, having been for several years councillor to the Department of External Affairs at Ottawa and before that associated with a St. Lawrence Power Company.

B.C. DRAMA GROUP ELECTS OFFICERS

Major L. Bullock-Webster was elected president of the British Columbia Drama Association for the ninth successive term at the annual meeting held last night in the City Hall.

Membership had increased rapidly in the last year, and the report of the association showed 1,700 members, and various drama districts, adult and junior, throughout the province, each holding their own annual festival.

Major L. Bullock-Webster

Major Bullock-Webster, in presenting his annual report, said that drama groups in the province were canceling their scheduled festivals because of the war. In referring to the local drama groups he said they could better justify their existence by assisting in every possible way with the various patriotic organizations, especially the Red Cross.

He referred to the assistance that the Department of Education was giving the B.C. Drama Association, and of the expenses for notepaper, envelopes and postage which were paid by the department.

Major Bullock-Webster spoke of the broadcasts which were to be presented during the winter months. The services of Rev. R. H. Butler and Chief Oskonen-ton, a full-blooded Mohawk Indian, were obtained as two of the speakers who will be heard over the air. The drama association was helping a group of Eskimos at Aklavik to start a drama club.

Officers elected at last night's meeting were: President, Major L. Bullock-Webster; vice-president, J. Barraclough; treasurer, H. G. Hinton; secretary, Miss Ethel Bale.

The reports of the various officers proved to be satisfactory. The report of the treasurer showed a satisfactory balance.

Duncan MacBride, president of the Chamber of Commerce, expressed a general feeling of satisfaction felt by all those interested in drama in British Columbia regarding the development of the association's activities. Hon. C. M. Weir's policy, which enabled a branch of the Education Department to assist rural drama groups had met with general approval.

THE WEATHER

VICTORIA, 5 a.m. today—Pressure remains high from British Columbia southward, but quite low off the north coast. The storm passing eastward across the north of this province has caused heavy rain on the coast and light showers in the interior. The weather continues mild from the coast to Manitoba.

Victoria—Barometer, 30.11; temperature, max. 59, min. 49; wind, 5 miles E.S.E.; precip. .01; raining.

Vancouver—Barometer, 30.11; temperature, max. 62, min. 50; wind, 10 miles E.; precip. .22; raining.

Prince Rupert—Barometer, 29.52; temperature, max. 53, min. 46; wind, 10 miles S.E.; precip. .22; cloudy.

San Francisco—Barometer, 30.10; temperature, max. 68, min. 47; wind, 2 miles N.E.; precip. .01; clear.

In little more than a single generation airplanes have increased in speed from 45 miles to a maximum of more than 450 miles an hour.
